Widow of 29th President of U. S. Died Peacefully at White Oak Sanitarium Today

GREAT SORROW AT WASHINGTON

Death of Mrs. Harding Arouses Deep Sense of Personal Sorrow at Capital

Highest Dignitaries, Including Pres. Coolidge, Express Condolences

Nation Will Never Forget Her Devotion to Distinguished Husband in Final Illness.

Funeral Services Will Be Held at Epworth M. E. Church Monday Afternoon

MARION, O., Nov. 21 (By the Associated Press).—Florence Kling Harding, widow of Warren G. Harding, 29th president of the United States, died here today.

The end came at 8:55 a. m. at the White Oak sanitarium of Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, where she has been fighting for life for the last few weeks.

Mrs. Harding's death was due directly to a kidney ailment, from which she has suffered for years, and which finally resulted fatally while she was mistress of the White House. She died peacefully, Dr. Sawyer said.

The doctor's estimate made out by Dr. Sawyer, gave the cause of death as chronic nephritis, with myocarditis and hydro-nephrosis, as contributing causes.

Clifford B. Kling, Mrs. Harding's brother, George B. Christian, Jr., who had been secretary to Mr. Harding, Mrs. Mary Sawyer, widow of Brigadier General Charles R. Sawyer, and Dr. Carl Sawyer were present when the end came.

Arrangements for the funeral were immediately taken over by her brother and Mr. Christian.

The funeral services will be held at Epworth Methodist Episcopal church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Rev. Jesse Swank, pastor of the church and who conducted the funeral service for President Harding, will be in charge.

George M. Landis, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, of which Mr. Harding was a member, Mrs. Harding had been a member of Epworth Methodist church since girlhood.

While no definite announcement has been made, it is expected that Mrs. Harding's body will be placed temporarily in the receiving vault in the Marion cemetery beside the body of her husband.

The body was removed from White Oak sanitarium early today to the home of Mrs. Frank J. Longshore, a niece, in East Church street.

President Coolidge's Message

President Coolidge today sent this telegram to George B. Christian, Jr.:

"Please express to the members of Mrs. Harding's family the sincere condolence of Mrs. Coolidge and myself. We share in fullest measure the sorrow which her death brings to them. We are disappointed that her brave fight was in vain but it is a source of pride to know that she made it and made it so valiantly as to arouse the admiration of her countless friends. We shall never forget her unswerving devotion to her husband."

MONTREAL MAN HELD FOR SUPERIOR COURT

Judge Threlkeld this morning found probable cause in the case of Joseph S. Beauregard of Montreal, charged with selling securities without being registered by the public utilities commission, and defendant was ordered to recognize in the sum of $500 for his appearance in superior court next month.

Beauregard was arrested for the first time in Montreal about two weeks ago, but was brought to this city by Officer John Leachy to face the present charges. The complaint in the case is Omer R. Savigneau, who alleges that Beauregard sold him worthless stock in the Pioneer Wrench Co. for $500 in 1921.

INTERESTING TALK ON PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Today, "Physical Education day," on the program for National Education week was elaborately observed at the Lowell State Normal school with a lecture this morning on "Physical Education" by Miss Florence Summers of the state department of education and a hockey game this afternoon between the junior and senior students at the school.

The work of the state department of physical education in the schools of Massachusetts was explained at length by Miss Summers who told in an interesting way what the development of

TO PRODUCE "PERFECT MAN"

Recent Discoveries Concerning the Function of Glands, Explained by Dr. Fisk

Proper Controlling of Glands Means Discovery of "Fountain of Youth"

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—Dr. R. Rodney Fisk of New York told the delegates last night at the closing session of the convention of the Eastern Homeopathic Medical association that recent discoveries concerning the function of glands of the human body had paved the way for production of the perfect man, while Dr. William H. Dillenback, an X-ray specialist, also of New York, added the assertion that by properly controlling the function of glands a "fountain of youth" will have been discovered. Failure of the glands to function, Dr. Dillenback said, was the cause of old age.

"By properly regulating man's glands," declared Dr. Fisk, "we shall not only be able to control his mental characteristics, but also his physical appearance. It will be within our power to say whether he shall be tall or short, fat or thin; whether his voice shall be tenor or bass."

"By increasing the action of sluggish glands and slowing down the over-active glands, remarkable results have been accomplished and we are on the verge of even greater achievements which will make possible the production of the perfect man."

Dr. Dillenback expressed the opinion that control of the ductless glands was far superior to implantation of monkey glands for the restoration of youth to the aged.

ELECTION IN WARD FIVE

Special Primary Will Be Held on Same Day as City Election

Five Candidates in Field for Position Made Vacant By Resignation

The special primary election to choose nominees for the office of councillor from Ward 5, in successor Representative-elect Daniel E. Moriarty, whose resignation was accepted by the council last Tuesday, will be held on the same day as the city election, December 2.

This announcement was made this morning by Chairman Hugh C. McOsker of the election commission, following a conference between the commissioners and the city solicitor, at which legal questions in regard to the holding of the primary were discussed.

Mr. McOsker has been of the opinion since Mr. Moriarty decided to resign that the best possible time to hold

LEGALITY OF PUBLISHING INCOME TAX RETURNS CONSIDERED

Question Taken Up By Special Senate Committee Investigating Internal Revenue Bureau—Further Course of Inquiry Depends on Decision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The legality of publishing specific income tax returns was the main question for consideration at today's session of the special senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau with the future course of the inquiry depending on the decision.

Officials of the internal revenue bureau halted the hearing yesterday by raising the point in executive session and had not completed their arguments against making the returns public when the session ended.

Chairman Clegg said that if the committee decided that the law did not permit the publication of specific returns, the hearing would center about conclusions drawn from a group of returns without identification of the makers. But, he added, if it is concluded that publication was legal, the committee will conduct a complete investigation. The question arose when the committee, in open session, began inquiry into the tax return of the Richard Croker estate.

Although unable to decide on the public point, the committee did agree, however, to include in the investigation a complete inquiry into the operations of the prohibition unit as well as to enforcement of the tax laws.

MAN BURNED TO CRISP

Tried to Save Roll by Re-entering Burning House After Saving Family

WORCESTER, Nov. 21.—Trying to save a roll of money by re-entering the blazing third floor tenement where he lived here, after carrying his wife and two babies to safety, Frank B. Hanson was overcome by smoke and flames and lost his life. After the fire had been extinguished police officers found the torso, burned to a crisp.

THE "HIJACKER" HAS ARRIVED IN LOWELL

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Josie Kluski of Dent's court went to the police station and after seeking out an interpreter, she told him that three police officers had been to her house and made off with a gallon of liquor. They had been there the day before, she said, but failed to find any wet goods. Feeling that she was to be haled into court for violation of the liquor law, she sought legal advice.

The interpreter directed her to an attorney, and the defense began preparations for trial. As in the majority of liquor cases, Capt. George B. Palmer of the liquor squad was consulted in the matter. To the surprise of the attorney and his client, Mr. Palmer knew nothing of a complaint against officers, and all concerned came to the conclusion that the alleged liquor officers were not liquor officers at all.

They were as the modern phrase has it, "hijackers." And they got away with it.

FELL WHILE PAINTING

Former Lowell Man Dies in Malden Hospital as Result of Fall

Rhona P. Ellis, a former resident of this city, died at the Malden hospital last night from injuries received yesterday afternoon when he fell 35 feet while painting the home of Nelson Shaw. He landed on his head and sustained a fracture of the skull and multiple lacerations of the body.

Mr. Ellis, who was a resident of Lowell, was well known as Dick Ellis. He moved to Medford a few years ago, and last year transferred his place of residence to Medford. He was the son of the late James W. and Melissa Ellis, who lived in Lowell. Mr. Ellis was 42 years, six months and 15 days old. Besides his wife, Chloe, he is survived by a twin-brother James R. and Oscar P. Ellis.

ORGANIZATION IS NOW COMPLETE

Organizer D. H. McFarland, of the American City Bureau, Inc., leading the local campaign in the interests of many charitable organizations affiliated with the newly organized Lowell Community Chest association, announced this morning the completion of the official executive organization, which will carry on the drive for money subscriptions, starting on Monday, December 2, next.

Arthur Spalding, well known attorney and president of Lowell Rotary club, has been selected by the charity campaigners to be general chairman of the organization.

Robert W. Thomas, past president of the Rotary club, was unanimously chosen commander of the team organization, which will have a membership of 500 men and women, well known supporters of many local community charitable enterprises of many kinds.

A list of major so-called, will be appointed next Monday to lead special committees handling important duties in the following campaign divisions:

1. To have charge of the work of securing special gifts.
2. Conduct drive in the retail markets.
3. Lead the employees' drive.
4. Direct drive in homes and schools (neighborhood campaigns).

There will also be a committee on stunts and outdoor publicity. Another committee will arrange for publicity meetings and speakers, another body of volunteer workers will aid in the distribution of advertising matter, and another active committee will seek co-operation from various schools and churches.

The campaign executive committee announces a special noon-day rally, scheduled for Monday next, in chamber of commerce rooms. Luncheon will be served and all members have promised to be there. At this meeting, the new majors and working committees coming under the "major" head, will be named and list of committees comprising each separate solicitation division of work, will be made up and announced.

Dr. Frank B. Jaynes, educational director of the American City Bureau, will deliver an address of vital interest to the Lowell community chest campaigners, at next Monday noon's luncheon.

When the drive starts on Dec. 2 next, continuing until the campaign closes, daily luncheons will be served in Liberty hall, Memorial Auditorium, to all engaged in the present effort to establish a Lowell community chest.

COLLEGE CLUB MEETS AT HOME OF MRS. KEEP

At the regular business session of the College club held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ruth R. Keep in Fairmount street the committee in charge of the moving picture program given recently at Keith's theatre reported that $73 had been cleared, this sum to be donated to the scholarship fund. Mrs. P. B. Knowlton, president of the club, was in the chair and various matters of major importance were discussed, among them being the annual play which is to be given Dec. 10. "The Yellow Jacket," a strictly Chinese character sketch, will be given this year and the committee in charge of arrangements reported favorably.

Following the business program, Miss Frances Scott entertained with numerous readings, among which were, "Hans Comes to the Bedroom" by Booth Tarkington; "Mansions," a one-act play, by Hildegarde Pinner; "First Call on the Butcher," "Sh-h," and "Specially Jim."

A social hour was enjoyed and tea was served by the following members of the hospitality committee:

Mrs. Hammond Barnes, chairman; Miss Emma Bradley, Miss Ruth Boulger, Mrs. Gardner Bullard, Mrs. Allen Thomas, Mrs. Philip S. Marion, Miss Ruth Eaton, Miss Ethel Everett, Miss Alfred Sawyer, Mrs. Duncan Pierce, Mrs. Charles F. Hobson, Miss William Savage, Mrs. Stanley Keal, Mrs. Jean Flaherty, Miss Julia Stevens, Miss Elizabeth Irish, Mrs. Harold Fletcher, Miss Alice Sullivan, Miss Amy Kelly, Miss Helen Barnes and Mrs. Ruth R. Keep.

HELD DANCE IN HIGHLAND HALL

An enjoyable dance was held last evening by the Order of the Eastern Star and proved most successful, both financially and socially. Highland hall was prettily decorated for the occasion and the formal dress of those participating added greatly to the general picture of enjoyment and merrymaking. Feature numbers in the dance program, including elimination waltzes and novelty offerings made up an entertaining program. During intermission refreshments were served by the hospitality committee. The following members of the order were in charge of the affair: Percy L. Willis, Charles Stanley, Victor Secord, Harry A. Holmes, Allen Fraser, W. E. Sargent, Edward Sealy.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT

In the case of Manning B. Taylor against Mary F. Towle in superior civil court here, a jury of contract involving $400, a jury yesterday afternoon reported a verdict for the defendant.

BYE-ELECTIONS

IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Nov. 21.—The free state government's reverses at the polls in the two bye-elections reported yesterday is balanced by two victories in the southwest. ## JACK KEARNS PRAISES "SULLY" MONTGOMERY

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, now in Boston with the champion regards "Sully" Montgomery, former Center college star who clashes with Battling McCreary at Mechanics building next Tuesday night as a rival for James J. Corbett, when the former champion was in his prime.

"Montgomery is the best looking of the new crop of heavyweights," said Kearns, "and I just hope he continues to climb as it looks as though Dempsey will have a real opponent next summer. He moves around the ring phantomlike as did Jim Corbett when he was champion. He is clever with a flashy left hand and in addition he seems to have a C.O. punch that will carry him to a triumph in a ring career. Boston fans are sure to be thrilled by Montgomery."

The former gridiron hero is only 23 years old and in 23 fights has won 15 by knockouts. He has won nine decisions and lost three times.

Fireman Jim Flynn knocked out Montgomery when he started but the football star came back and knocked out Flynn. The same state of affairs also ruled in Dempsey's fights with Harry Williams, Jack Hanan, Soldier Jones, Jack Taylor, Lee Anderson, Leo Gates, Joe McCann and Kid Norfolk, quite an array of punchers.

MEXICO SENDS PROTEST TO WASHINGTON

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21.—The department of foreign relations has sent a note to Washington protesting against the treatment received by Mexican workers from industrialists and plantation owners in Louisiana. Previous representations made by the Mexican consul in New Orleans are said to have gone unheeded by the authorities.

TAKE SALTS FOR A KIDNEY BACKACHE

Drink Lots of Water All Day Long to Keep Kidneys Flushed

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison; else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day. Have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts—Middlesex, ss. Probate Court. To all persons interested in the estate of Elizabeth Hetherman, late of Lowell, in said County, deceased: Whereas, Margaret Hetherman, administratrix of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court her petition praying the Court to determine the amount of money which she may pay for the erection of a monument on and the perpetual care of the lot in which the body of said deceased lies and to whom the same shall be paid.

You are hereby cited to appear at Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County, on the ninth day of December, A.D. 1924, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said administratrix is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate of said deceased at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court. ## NEW HOME IS DEDICATED

Lowell Elks' Dedictory Exercises Close With Banquet and Entertainment

Elks From All Parts of United States Guests of Local Lodge

With appropriate ceremony, fittingly brought to a close with a successful banquet in the evening, the new home of Lowell lodge of Elks, in Warren street, was formally dedicated yesterday. Past Grand Exalted Ruler James R. Nicholson and District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Arthur G. Ledwith, with suite, shared honors in the formal ritualistic ceremony in the afternoon. George M. Harrigan, chairman of the building committee, which yesterday turned over its finished work to the lodge, acted as toastmaster at the banquet in the evening.

Men high in Elksdom, as well as Elks from all parts of the United States, participated in the ceremony of the afternoon and attended the banquet in the evening. The banquet, an enormous delight, was the crowning event of three full days of activity which have marked the completion of the work of erecting and furnishing the new home provided for the 1500

Lowell citizens numbered as members of Lowell's storied herd.

Exalted Ruler James R. Nicholson opened the banquet, turning it over to Chairman Harrigan, the toastmaster. Speakers included William H. O'Brien of the state public utilities commission, P.G.E.R. James R. Nicholson, Congressman Jacob Rogers, Mayor John J. Donovan, D.D.G.E.R. Arthur G. Ledwith, and Past District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler John P. Farley, secretary of the building committee, and past exalted ruler of Lowell lodge. The beautiful lodge room of the new home was filled to capacity with members and guests at the banquet. The menu was a palatable feast served in his usual first class fashion by Caterer Lydon and his excellent preparation together with the efficient service went a long way towards making the evening the bright success it proved to be. The menu follows:

Olives Nuts Celery
Half Grape Fruit Marshmallows
Baked Chicken Hashed Sauce Supreme
Parsennio Potatoes
Roast Turkey Cranberry Sauce
Delmonico Potatoes Green Peas Squash
Lobster Salad, in Cases
Pineapple Fritters, Fruit Sauce
Sultana Roll, Montrose Sauce
French Ice Cream
Assorted Cakes Rolls Butter Coffee
Perfecto Cigars—Fattini Cigars

A fine entertainment was provided through Brother John J. Quigley of Boston lodge, No. 10, Boston theatrical agency man. Miss Sadie Campbell in Scotch costume proved the hit of the evening, opening with "She's the Lass for Me." Inspector Exalted Ruler Donnelly at the head table found his favorite song being given, a song which he has sung in probably every Elks' lodge room in New England. Nothing would do but that the genial Jimmie, blushing like a school boy, should accede to clamorous demand and take the encore with the singer.

Stanley Greenlaw, musical saw artist, often heard by radio fans, Sam Bailey, a card trick expert, Ed McHugh, monologist, and Miss Ray Sophie, soprano, made up the rest of the entertainers. All were exceptionally good, Miss Sophie, first over to sing in the hall, showing its acoustic properties to be of the best. Following her came the musical saw man, who produces music from a common saw and a fiddler's bow. His work proved conclusively that the acoustic properties of the new hall are of the finest.

After the banquet, as post-prandial cigars were being lighted by well satisfied smokers, Exalted Ruler Donnelly took occasion to publicly thank the members of the building committee for their excellent and valuable service to the lodge, citing particularly John J. Quigley, treasurer of the lodge and the committee, Michael J. Markham, vice chairman of the committee, and Past District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler John P. Farley, the committee secretary.

The mention of each name was met with prolonged and spontaneous outbursts of enthusiasm. A similar ovation, including three rousing cheers, greeted George M. Harrigan, chairman of the committee, introduced as toastmaster of the evening.

Mr. Harrigan in opening paid a brief, yet wholesome, tribute to his fellow members of the building committee, stating their pride of accomplishment and making known the spirit with which all had been imbued in their labors, that "of getting the best there was for the Elks." Mr. Harrigan paid a high tribute to the personnel of the board of trustees and briefly traced the origin of the building fund, started, he said in 1910 mainly through the efforts of John P. Farley who joyously gave it and nurtured it from that time.

Telegrams and letters of regret at their inability to attend were read from Past District Deputy John P. McGinn, Past Exalted Ruler John P. Durkin, Harry R. Rice, George Stanley Harvey, Mayor William McGee of Haverhill, president of the State Elks association, J. J. Hourihan, association secretary, William E. Hill of Everett and Superior Court Judge Richard W. Irwin of Springfield.

Past Exalted Ruler James R. Nicholson was the first speaker. Congratulating Lowell Elks on their magnificent new home, Mr. Nicholson charged them that they continue to practice the cardinal principles of the order, charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity. He cited the words of the late Warren M. Harding, first Elks to become president, that "the greatest need of the times is for the development of religious tolerance, and he stressed that point. He closed suggesting that each member take to heart the creed contained in the oft quoted verses:

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by
The men who are good, and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the scorpion's seat,
Nor hurl the cynic's ban

Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man."

District Deputy Arthur G. Ledwith, the next speaker, referred to the souvenir booklet issued in connection with the opening of the new home, saying he was struck in perusing same with the words, "Looking Backward." Looking backward, he said, he noted that Lowell lodge is the 37th of the order instituted and called for an appreciation of legacy which rests with its membership, ten traditions that are theirs to maintain.

"This is your home," he said. "Here harmony and co-operation must prevail if it is to remain a home—not a mere pile of bricks and mortar, of personal differences and animosities without these four walls. Then your home will be all that you intend it shall be, a temple of tolerance, great factor in your community life."

Mayor Donovan spoke with characteristic brevity, saying he has always been proud of his membership in the order and his loyalty to it.

Congressman John Jacob Rogers, greeted enthusiastically by his brothers, voiced his pleasure at being a member of the lodge. He called the day an important one in Lowell Elksdom, endorsed the statements of P.G.E.R. Nicholson, that there is no room for bigots in Elksdom, and rejoiced that he could truthfully say he has never heard of a bigot or a traitor who was an Elks.

Just as there is no room for bigots or also is there no room in Elksdom, he continued, for hypocritized Americans. Mr. Rogers closed his forceful address with a tribute to the building, marked, he said, with a perfection of taste he has never seen in any edifice of his kind.

At this point Toastmaster Harrigan paid a brief but glowing tribute to Harry Prescott Graves, architect of the building, and Frederick P. Meloy, master builder, both stood for a few moments while all present joined in prolonged applause for them.

The 11 o'clock hour was given by Past District Deputy Michael H. McCarron of Woburn lodge.

The next speaker was John P. Farley, past district deputy and earnest and energetic worker for the building committee. Mr. Farley referred to the first time to the generosity of five members who donated the stained glass windows in the lodge room: Geo. M. Harrigan, John J. Heuler, Frederick P. Meloy, Walter H. Bagshaw, and the late Joseph J. Hollman. He also mentioned Frank A. Maloney, fellow-member of the building committee, who donated and laid the cornerstone about the exterior of the building.

Stating that "the character of a building is determined by the reputation of its tenants," Mr. Farley in a brief yet vigorous speech spoke for the future policies of the lodge. Appreciative of his endeavors in the past as well as his earnestness of purpose for the future, those present, gave him a decided ovation.

The final speaker was William H. O'Brien, member of the state board of public utilities, who spoke on Americanism, especially deprecating the new histories taught in some American public schools, pointing that Elksdom should take it upon itself to suppress these books and restore to use the older histories, more patriotic in tone and more truthful in contents.

Out-of-town guests included: William Hartley, Passaic, N. J.; Henry Crosby, Melrose; Daniel Bourgan, Melrose; Edward J. Gibson, Wakefield; Harry Gelman, Portsmouth, N. H.; Theo. Pennelly, Beverly; C. Talbot, Medford; William J. Walsh, Los Angeles, Cal.; John C. Byrne, Lawrence; Ethelbert E. Wontzel, Melrose; J. M. Sutherland, Melrose; William Ragan, Melrose, William S. Kusky, Portsmouth, N. ## BOY DROWNED IN HALE'S BROOK

Seven-year-old Bernard B. Gibson of 26 Washington street, was drowned in Hale's brook yesterday afternoon, in the first thin-ice tragedy of the season in this vicinity.

With a number of his playmates from St. Peter's school, young Gibson played about the bank of the brook after school yesterday afternoon. At times venturing onto the thin ice at the shore. Shortly before dark he ran too far out on the ice and it broke beneath his weight, dropping him into the icy waters of the brook.

Help of police and neighbors was summoned by the lad's playmates, who ran through the streets screaming. Police Chauffeur James Mahoney and Officers Peter Cawley and Joseph Lamoureux responded and attempted to locate the body by means of hooks from the shore, while two young men dragged the brook from a small boat. Within 15 minutes the body was brought to shore and rushed to St. John's hospital, where an unsuccessful effort was made to effect resuscitation.

The boy is survived by his parents, Walter J. and Elizabeth (Bradley) Gibson; three brothers, Philip, Warren and Walter, Jr., and two sisters, Mildred and Geraldine. The body was removed to the home by Undertakers Mahoney Bros.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatre's Own Press Agents)

LOWE'S HALL

Check up another sure-fire hit for William Fox. "Darwin Was Right," starring Max, Moritz and Ted, the human monkeys, which opened at Lowe's Hall yesterday, is the latest William Fox production to hit the bullseye of popularity. If the demonstration of the audience at its premier presentation here can be accepted as a criterion, Lewis Soller, the director, has made these intelligent apes perform feats of acting that are almost uncanny. It is hard to believe that any animal could be trained to such a remarkable degree. The plot of the picture is intriguing and when not reeling with laughter a spectator is not to find himself on the edge of his seat so great is the suspense.

While our little hairy brothers are the feature players, there is a supporting cast of humans who play their parts with skill and finish. Among them are such screen favorites as George, O'Hara of "Fighting Blind," fame, Dan Mason, formerly of "Tommyville" and Bud Jamison, of the team "Hum and Burt" of by-gone days. Buck Jones, popular Fox Western star, is also on the bill in "Not a Drum Was Heard," an unusually good outdoor story with very clever plot. Fox News complete the bill, which is in every way satisfactory.

THE STRAND

A social condition, the subject of widest discussion in the United States, prohibition, is treated daringly in "Wine," the Universal-Jewel feature on "The Strand" program for the week-end. In its adaptation for the screen care was taken not to make the story in any way a preachment. It has everything found in a high-class photoplay—action, tense moments, clever characterizations and gripping climaxes. An all-star cast, headed by Clara Bow, Forrest Stanley, Myrtle Stedman and others are engaged in it.

Fistic battles, automobile chases and sheriff's posse have near the excitement and grief connected with a ready-made family—Laura La Plante and Reginald Denny prove in "The Fast Worker," an adaptation from George Barr McCutcheon's novel, "The Husband's Secret." Denny plays the role of the man who suddenly finds a strange "wife and family" on his hands. It has all of the elements found in the usual lively, vigorous, humorous Denny photoplay. A comedy and weekly add to the pleasure of the program—one of the best of the year.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

Betty Compson, whose latest starring vehicle, "The Hunch," is now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre, knows how Daniel must have felt in the lion's den. In her new picture, Miss Compson portrays the role of an ignorant, primitive little Boer girl and is called upon to play with several full grown lions. Furthermore, she is called upon to attack the man she loves. The companion feature is "The Lone Chance," starring John Gilbert in a mystery drama of love and politics. The latest chapter of "Into the Net" is also shown.

B. F. KEMPIS THEATRE

Nothing is funnier than the development of the character of Michael Clancy, the Irish peddler, in "The Pest House," at the B. F. Kempis theatre, this week. Roger Imhof gives this character a real standing. It is 100 per cent comedy. Gracie Deagan and Jack Black in "High Store and Oil" also constitute a hit. Others on the bill are, Helene Hamilton and Jack Barnes, Perry Corwey, Jack Sidney and Gaudier's Dogs. The picture is "Greater than Marriage."

How to Banish Piles

Thousands Bless Dr. Leonhardt, the Physician Who Discovered This Common-Sense Remedy.

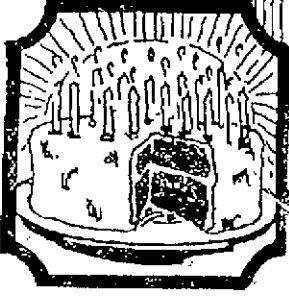

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it is because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID. The doctor's treatment is internal. By exterminating for years he discovered the exact cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause.

Dr. Leonhardt wants every sufferer to benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubting or delay, Green in Drug Store and all drug stores are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it will do as stated or money back. On that honorable basis every sufferer should secure a package of Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID today.—Adv.

FRATERNAL NEWS

A business meeting of James A. Garfield Women's Relief Corps was held last evening, following a sale and whilst in the afternoon and a supper at 5.30 p. m.

The sale proved to be a success, the seven tables at which all sorts of useful articles were displayed being patronized steadily all afternoon. The tables were in charge of the following: Paucy, Mrs. Louis Johnson, Mrs. Ida Luce, domestic; Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. Myra Kilpatrick; apron, Mrs. Elizabeth Dexter; Mrs. Catherine Ingalls and Mrs. Elvira Flanders; candy, Mrs. Storm; Miss Winters; mystery, Mrs. MacLean.

The supper was also a great success, the attendance being very satisfactory, and among the guests present were four charter members, Mrs. Annie E. Tuttle, Mrs. Mary D. Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Dexter and Halile Whitney, all past presidents of the corps. The event marked the first anniversary of the corps and a birthday cake donated by Mrs. Andrew Jenkins was a center of attraction. Following supper, Mrs. Myra Kilpatrick entertained with a number of readings and Mrs. Elizabeth Young sang a group of songs.

The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Anna Holland. Following the transaction of routine business, Mrs. Myra Kilpatrick, patriotic instructor, presented to Garfield post two silk flags, which were accepted by Commander Barnett. It was voted to present the Lowell street school two silk flags on Dec. 3.

A regular meeting of Loyal Excelsior lodge, I.O.O.F., No. 129, was held Monday evening in Post 129 (G.A.R. hall). N.G. William Williams presided and considerable lodge business was transacted. It was announced that the M.G.S.C. will meet the first Monday in December with Excelsior lodge and a program of singing and dancing is being arranged for the occasion.

Ladies' Auxiliary, A.O.U., met in regular session Tuesday evening in Grosvenor hall with Acting President Dewira in the chair. A number of reports were filed and routine business was transacted. It was announced that the recently elected officers for 1925 will be installed December 2.

Plans for a Christmas celebration were discussed at the regular meeting of the British-American Social club in its quarters in the Free church Wednesday evening. It was announced that each member is entitled to bring one child to the celebration and that gifts will be presented the children by the club's Santa Claus. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Blakeley, Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. Tatro and Mrs. Croushaw, assisted by the entire membership of the club.

Members of Mary E. Smith tent, Daughters of Veterans, will visit the Chelsea Soldiers' home, Sunday, leaving Fudge street at 11.30 a. m. in a motor bus. Candy, tobacco and similar articles will be carried to be given to the inmates. Donations of home-made candy are requested.

The members desire to extend their thanks to all who assisted in making the benefit dance held last week in Highland hall such a great success, especially thanking the Cameron Ice Cream Co. and Turner Centre System for their generous donations. The affair was a great success both socially and financially.

Veterans' night will be observed by Admiral Farragut camp, Sons of Veterans, this evening and all Civil war veterans, brothers of the camp and sisters of Auxiliary 47 are invited to attend. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock and will be followed by an entertainment.

LOWELL BOY ON STOCK
JUDGING TEAM

The International Livestock exposition, which is to start in the monster auditorium in Chicago on Nov. 23 next and continue for a period of seven days, will be the centre of the annual round-up of American farming and stock-raising notables sure to attract attention in all parts of the world agricultural.

Only two exhibits of farm animals will be drawn from New England rural households this year. These will be the fancy stock selections of 16 sheep from the Holden farms in Bradstreet, and a class of milking shorthorn cattle, owned by Zeas M. Crane of Flintstone farms in Dalton. Both were winners at eastern livestock shows this year.

The stock judging team of the Massachusetts Agricultural college is the only college judging aggregation of experts entered from this section of the country. Amherst reports that seven girls and one boy will represent this section at the boys' and girls' club congress.

The members of the stock judging team from Massachusetts "Aggie" include J. C. Kakavas of Lowell, who is in the senior class. The local expert has to pay five-eighths of his expenses to the exposition, the other three-eighths being contributed from the income of the French fund of the college, which is held in trust for such purposes. It is Mr. Kakavas' first trip to the "International" in four years, and the five college seniors who make up the Massachusetts delegation of judges will have to compete against 25 student stock judging teams from all over the country.

LOWELL'S WAR HEROES

On November 30, the memorial tablets bearing the names of the Lowell soldiers who died in the various wars in which this country engaged, will be posted in trophy hall of the Memorial Auditorium. It has been a very difficult task to make out an accurate list of the local heroes who made the supreme sacrifice in the various wars since the days of the Revolution. On the eligibility of some names presented for a place on these tablets, there has been more or less controversy, and much historical research was necessary in order to reach a just decision. This was particularly true of some of the heroes who gave their lives in the Civil war. There was an official record of the companies in which they served and of their death; but there was a question as to whether they belonged in Lowell, and the committee in charge had a great many such questions to decide. Under the circumstances the committee has done the best it could, and the list of names to be engraved on these tablets should, therefore, command the reverence that is due to the shades of all the service men who made the supreme sacrifice in the service of their government and in the defense of the flag. The erection of the tablets will attract attention to trophy hall and to a much greater extent will emphasize the memorial character of the great building.

GLENN FRANK'S VIEWS

Glenn Frank, editor of the Century Magazine, in an address before the State Federation of Women's Clubs discussed the "Outlook for Western Civilization," dealing with the prophets of gloom and despair in a masterly way and suggesting as the counterforce a period of humor and fun, something which is certainly needed, inasmuch as the social life of the country has undergone a very serious decadence during the last few years.

Mr. Frank does not believe in the philosophy of despair, he has faith in the staying qualities of science and religion if applied as they should be to the problems of our modern civilization. But there is one other element that will help immensely, which is an adherence to the Jeffersonian principles of democracy that are being cast aside by modern reformers who think that through the concentration of power at Washington, the people of this country can be legislated into any special brand of moral reform that the welfare forces see fit to adopt.

If our western civilization shows any weakness, it will be as the result of getting away from the constitution as framed by the revolutionary fathers, or else remodelling it on lines that would minimize our personal liberties and make us a nation of hypocrites.

SAFETY ON THE HIGHWAYS

Gov. Cox at the conference of governors at Jacksonville, Fla., this week made an important statement relative to the necessity of making the highways safe for the public, both for pedestrians and the operators of motor vehicles who keep within the limits of the law. He emphasized the fact that while pedestrians have a primary right to use the highways, under recent conditions they can do so only at their peril, and that even the orderly, sober, careful operator of a motor vehicle is always the possible victim of the irresponsible, careless or intoxicated driver.

In his statement the governor called attention to a problem of vital importance and one which every state in the country will have to solve. Some other states may not suffer so much as we do from accidents, but it is a well known fact that some are even worse off than we. The insecurity on the streets of New York, Chicago and some other leading cities is even greater than that of Boston. Everywhere the number of accidents, fatal and otherwise, is simply appalling and the worst feature of the situation is, that in view of the great number of motor bus lines starting up, the conditions are liable soon to be worse instead of better.

We are likely soon to find our highways used by motor trucks with trailers for the transportation of freight. When the railroads such as the Boston & Maine are talking of starting to run motor bus lines, the question may well be asked, what effect will all this have on highways?

Will it not result in more congestion which means more accidents?

The whole problem, therefore, calls for a radical change in our public highways with special routes for the big trucks and perhaps also sidewalks for pedestrians. Moreover, as a source of safety, pedestrians should be compelled to walk on the left side of the highways so that they may the better protect themselves and less often leave autoists a choice of running over them or crashing into vehicles passing on the other side of the road.

OUR TEACHERS

Very little fuss has been made over the observance of Education Week. We have so many of these weeks that we cannot afford to get excited as one takes the place of another. But in reference to Education Week it is in order to say a word for the hard-working, painstaking teachers. In a great many instances their devotion is not appreciated; but it is upon their efforts mainly that the success of our schools depends. There is a very great difference in teachers, of course, as there is in any other class of people; servants; but it is doubtful if there is any other class more generally conscientious and devoted to their work. They are engaged not only in imparting instruction but in building the characters of our future citizens; and upon their success or failure in this respect, will depend very largely the future of the present day pupils.

Of late the associations of parents and teachers for mutual understanding and co-operation have accomplished much good. Nothing is more annoying to teachers than to find that the parents of pupils, from false report or other cause, undervalue the teachers' work, and sometimes even criticize unjustly. This state of affairs is being largely overcome and much benefit is derived from the frequent exchange of views between teachers and parents. Johnnie's parents are posted on how he is getting along at school and his teacher learns what he has to contend with at home, and whether he deserves sufficient time to study. All this tends to interest the parents in the work of the schools and especially for the success of their children who are receiving instruction.

OUR WAXING TIMBER SUPPLY

President Coolidge has called attention to one of the great needs of the country at large in reference to the growing shortage of the timber supply, which is at present much below the public needs. He shows that while 745,000 million cubic feet is left in this country the annual drain is 25,000 million, while the annual growth reaching maturity is only 6,000 million cubic feet. It is readily seen, therefore, that a continuance of this policy would exhaust the available supply. Hence, the president's appeal for conservation is timely; but in addition he urges reforestation wherever possible, a matter that has been seriously neglected very generally throughout the country. The president points out that the time has arrived when the nation must turn to the problem of growing timber from the soil like any other crop.

The fact that it requires more than a generation to bring a young tree to maturity, is perhaps the greatest obstacle to reforestation. A great many men say to themselves "what is the use in planting trees that will not reach maturity during our lives?" That feeling must be overcome by the pressing necessity. The supply that we have destroyed represented the growth of many centuries and it is now incumbent upon the present generation to do its duty to repair the waste and provide a supply of lumber for those who come after us.

LOS ANGELES TROUBLE

Los Angeles cannot boast of taciturn officials, since a band of ranchers was permitted to open the gates of the city water supply and hold them open for weeks, thus allowing vast quantities of the water to escape.

That raid was actually of a military nature, and that is why it should have been promptly suppressed pending final adjudication of the issues, if there are any, involved. It seems that the ranchers of Owen valley some miles below the city, claim that Los Angeles has held back a supply of water to which they were entitled for irrigation purposes. Even though their claims in this respect are well founded, that would not justify their course in opening the gates of the city water supply and allowing it to run to waste. The city and state authorities by permitting the capture and possible diversion of the municipal water supply by a band of men openly defying the law, are shown up in a bad light. They were either remiss in the discharge of their duties, or else afraid to meet the band of ranchers. In either case, the city of Los Angeles stands in an unenviable position in the whole affair.

WINTER CARNIVAL

It is pleasing to note that Supt. Kernan is planning to provide unusual facilities for winter sports in our public parks and commons. Fort Hill park and even the South commons are admirably adapted for such sports and hence the announced plans of the park department give general satisfaction. The young people interested will anxiously await the enjoyable beautiful features of the winter carnival.

Evidently the republican advance agent of prosperity has not reached the Pine Tree state, as several of the mills there are cutting wages 10 per cent. Business is reported exceedingly bad and the wage cut is made in an effort to get more hands employed.

We note that another of the government bureaus at Washington releases its annual report on Sunday which should ensure its exclusion from the dailies on Monday. Perhaps that is the object to obtain as little publicity as possible.

One of the leading Boston papers carries the Associated Press release dated for Nov. 20 and gives a synopsis in editorial form of the annual report of Secretary Hoover.

SEEN AND HEARD

The geese are flying south to dodge the goose plagues.

It costs $50 to go by airplane from New York to Chicago, and even then you aren't so much better off.

A pickpocket broke his leg trying to escape in St. Louis, so you see it never pays to hurry too much.

A Thought

No remedy against this consumption of the purse; borrowing only lingers and lingers it out, but the disease is incurable.—Shakespeare.

"Can't Be Nice"

"I like the kind of man who always looks you squarely in the eye." "How can a man look us squarely in the eye?" rejoined Mrs. Cayenne, "with the kind of hats we are wearing?"—Washington Star.

Put Papa Wise

Jones had found a slip of paper on his lawn. It was an accurate and detailed position of the stars was noted. Notes showed which doors swung in and which swung out. Even the windows were set down. Jones was alarmed. "Some burglar must be going to raid my office," he told his faithful. "Oh, that isn't it," cried his daughter, glancing at the sketch. "These notes are in Jack's handwriting. He's coming down to your office to ask you to let him marry me."

Britain's Dry Spell

Once upon a time there was a long spell of dry weather. What made it the more wonderful is the fact that the astonishing event took place in Britain. Strange, but none the less true! After several weeks of incessant sunshine there was a refreshing shower of rain. "This rain will do a lot of good, John," remarked Mr. Blank to his gardener. "It will that, sir," returned John; "sure, an hour or so will do more good in five minutes than a month of it would do in a week at any other time."

Over His Head

A farmer had a dispute with his son. For some months they quarreled over a last wish to settle matters. One way or the other, the former issued a summons against the young man. "Your name is Heczekiah Perkins, is it not?" inquired the opposing counsel. "It is, sir," replied the farmer. "This action against you son for the past month?" "What?" asked the old man, somewhat puzzled. "Have you ignored your son for the past month?" "Oh, no, sir," said the old man, shaking his head. "I have had nothing whatever to do with him."

He Explained It

In response to the complaint of a Los Angeles father that he did not see why a boy's college time should be wasted in reviewing any of the things he learned in the grammar and high schools, David Starr Jordan submitted some of the answers to a test given at Stanford: "Things which are equal to the same thing are equal to anything else." "A grass widow is the wife of a dead vegetarian." "Oceanica is that continent which contains no land." "In India a man out of a cask may not marry a woman out of another cask." "Parallel lines run in the same direction all the way to do not meet unless you bend them." "Gravitation is that which if there were none we should all fly away." "Horsepower is the distance one horse can carry a pound of water in an hour."

The Silk Shop

Venus has left her silver lamp low in the purple west, Casting a soft and mellow light Upon the sea's full breast; In one clear path—as if to guide Some pale, wayfarer's guest.

Far out, far out the restless boat Starts from a troubled sleep, Where, roaring through the narrow straits, The meeting waters leap; But still that shining pathway leads Across the lonely deep.

When I sail out the narrow straits Where the unknown dangers lie And cross the troubled, moaning bar To the mysterious sea, Dear Father, will you not set a lamp Low in the West for me?

—BY ELLA HIGGINSON.

MAN TALKING TOWN

They're still talking about the wonderful talk given by Hon. Perry D. Thompson at the 11th annual banquet of the Broadway Social and Athletic club. The former mayor was never better as a speaker than he was on this occasion. He spoke in a humorous and in a serious vein but always in a manner that found instant favor with his audience. One of his stories dealt with a man whom he met at the polling booth during the recent city primaries. As Mr. Thompson was going in to cast his ballot, he said, he was approached by a man coming out. "Well, Perry," said the man, "I wish you luck and I hope you win. You can bet your life I voted for you." Mr. Thompson's name was not on the ballot at all.

At every fire of size the report is given out that bursting hose hampered the best efforts of the firemen and gave them ineffectual streams of water for weapons. It would seem to be good policy for an annual appropriation for the purchase of new hose in sufficient amount to insure good hose at all times and have none on hand whose length of life has been long enough to make its use at all dangerous. It must be known how long hose will remain in proper condition and based upon this knowledge so much should be discarded each year and new hose substituted in this manner all here in the department would be within the safe time limit and such criticism avoided. Oftentimes bursting hose lengths do not appear as dangerous a condition as appears, but some valuable time and water pressure are lost that could be avoided.

An interesting program awaits parents and teachers this evening at the Liberty hall when the Lowell Tuberculosis Council will present speakers who will give valuable information on the care of the child's health. Miss Nathaniel, clinic director of the council, will speak interestingly on the topic and all parents and teachers interested in the health of the child will gain much information by attending this evening's program, which, together with the addresses, will include health movies and music.

Mrs. Helen R. Barstow, of Boston, who directed the singing at the convention of the Federated Women's clubs of Massachusetts held in Memorial Auditorium Wednesday was certainly a "leader." Her spirited singing, together with masterful leading, brought wonderful results. Everybody got into the rhythm of the song, which was "America, the Beautiful," and the response was inspiring. The impression left by Mrs. Barstow, that clubbers need more leaders of her type.

It was a real treat to hear Glenn Frank, editor of Century Magazine, in his address before the convention delegates. Mr. Frank, a humorist such as is rarely met on the public platform, entertained his auditors to such an extent that it was with reluctance he was allowed to curtail his talk. It might well be said "curtailed," for to properly discuss his subject, "The Outlook for Western Civilization," Mr. Frank would have easily taken up an hour and a half, while on the other hand he was granted but little over 45 minutes. Rules must be followed, however, but it really was a shame to interrupt such a brilliant and interesting speaker. Still, one wonders what he would have done had he been limited to six minutes.

Majority recounts, such as the one completed yesterday by the election commission, have, become almost fixtures in the past ten or fifteen years. Hugh McOwen, general chairman of the commission, says that within this space of time there have been three at least, and maybe four, majority recounts and several recounts of other offices on the ballot. A recount is always interesting and this last one was especially so because persons interested in the candidates had the opinion that it errors as large as those found in the 15th representative district recount could be made, it was possible for any kind of a slueup in the recent figures. As it was, one mistake was found which made a difference of 30 votes to one of the leading candidates and another was located which changed a total 18 votes.

Sore Throat

Sore throat and nasal catarrh result from inflamed conditions and indicate the presence of germs. Although Bafaline Lotion is non-poisonous and pleasant to the taste, laboratory tests show that it destroys developed germs in less than half a minute. Its soothing and healing action quickly relieves soreness and irritation when it is applied to the throat and nose in the form of a gargle or spray. You and the children should start using it today as a preventive for coughs, grippe, colds, scarlet fever, diphtheria, and all other forms of contagious diseases.

Be sure to ask for Bafaline Lotion for it is positively effective and different from any other—and should be in every home. At all druggists, 50c and $1.00.—ADV.

MERRIMACK RIVER LOW

Present Supply of Water

Cannot Meet Power Production Demands

Merrimack river is holding its enormous own so far as tremendously reduced volume of water coming down stream in shallow quantities is concerned today.

The continued drought has lowered the depths of the big stream all the way up to Manchester, and quite a distance beyond. Locks and Canals can only furnish today, after the massive holding gates are closed all night to collect a meagre volume of water in the basin, about 400 cubic feet of the valuable fluid that turns the wheels of many Lowell industries.

That 1000 figure appears to be sizeable, but it isn't, for the release of the basin holdings in the morning quickly lowers the basin and the river returns to its record-breaking low sun-time reading about 1500 cubic second feet over Pawtucket dam, which is low water today with a capital "L."

The river is actually not quite so low as it was 10 days ago, but Lowell and Canals watchers lay this fact to the excellent water contents condition of many Vermont watersheds and small but spring-fed streams that are steadily flowing into the Merrimack along the way far up the course beyond Manchester. Proof that there has been no indication of the northern streams actually drying up as yet has been furnished by hunters, fire wardens and fishermen returning from the river territories and watersheds.

Locks and Canals proprietors are taking the present low-water situation in the Lowell river territory as philosophically as they can. They are prepared for any eventuality, and admit that if the cold weather comes too quickly and freezes up the ground and the water courses, there could be no fresh supply obtained until warm days come again. There are some river watchers who are frank to say that no headlines blaring "Spring Freshets" will be necessary in covering any Merrimack antics next April, from the looks of things today.

THE ZOO

THE Eyra is a tiger-cat
That lives in Mexico.
It has large, bright and shiny eyes
That in the darkness glow.
Through underbrush and swampy spots
It nimbly refers to roam.
It's something like the little cat
That's found in any home.

When Mom has lots of things to do—the housework and the like—her helper gives her spirit new; a tiny little tick.
This little sister's three years old, but my, she's learning fast. She does things just as she is told, and does them very fast.

The dishes come to the table, and sister understands. They are wiped and quickly put away by tiny little hands.
Then mother gets the sweeper out and cleans from room to room. You'll shortly hear the swishing of a little three-foot broom.

The afternoon brings baking plans and things come from the shelf. So sis puts flour on pots and pans and also on herself.
This tiny youngster works and goes around the house a-humming. Perhaps she's smart, perhaps she knows that Christmas soon is coming.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion." Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing and painful flatulencies and belching which disturb the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisulphate of Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quart of water, three or four times a day. This will drive the gas, wind and bloated right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its fermentation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisulphate of Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Adv.

NEW TELEPHONE SWITCHBOARDS ELECTRICAL MARVELS

Machine Establishes Connection Desired by Subscriber Without the Aid of Operator—New System is Being Installed in Lawrence—Lowell's Turn Next

Alexander Bell invented better than he knew.

To be sure, the inventor of the telephone realized—and nourished that realization—that some day in the distant future, the telephone would be of service to all mankind.

It is doubtful, though the brain of Bell, the ingenious and practical, as well as dreamer, was capable of seeing far into the future of things electrical, if the great inventor ever imagined that some day in Boston and Lawrence all telephone calls and answers would be automatically transferred and connected by a machine eliminating human error and hand assistance.

One of the first important steps toward machine-operated central telephone offices was the change in the method of signaling the operator. Many persons now living can remember the time when they had to turn a little crank on the side of the telephone when wishing to signal the operator. A good many of these phones are still being used in many rural sections of the country.

In 1892, the first common battery switchboard was put into operation. Now one has only to lift the receiver from the hook and a signal promptly reaches the central switchboard.

A more recent change has been the introduction of machine-ringing by which the operator, instead of manually ringing the called subscriber, merely makes the connection to the called subscriber's line. The ringing then starts automatically and ceases when the called subscriber answers.

Multiple Switchboard

The multiple switchboard had been in use for only a few years when the idea was conceived that it was possible to devise apparatus with which local calls could be completed without the aid of an operator. The machine-switching system was the next logical step in the march of improvements, progress and general betterment of telephone facilities.

The telephone development, past and present, has been so remarkable in many ways, that volumes could be written on the subject in all its various branches, without exhausting material for interesting and often almost unbelievable facts.

Today, in Boston thousands of telephone lines running from district central stations, are now "connected up" with the new machine switching telephone system, the innovation being recently installed in exchange where urgently required. The initial provision of this labor-saving, time-saving and quicker-service system of telephone communication connects, of course, with everywhere within calling distance of the mighty Bell system and associated lines the continent over.

Although Boston district has yet not been completely "changed over" to the machine switching system, as it is going to be before very long, the time has come to introduce the new methods of telephoning and connecting service calls in other New England cities, where telephone lines are congested and the burdens on telephone operators today rapidly becoming too serious to neglect any longer. In large civic communities where under present methods of ringing central and waiting for a connection, many delays result because of overburdened lines and other annoying reasons, the new machine switching telephone will banish many of the old causes of customers' complaints, and bring about, actually, a new era of telephone communication that will allow freer usage of all wires and secure quicker connections when telephone owners desire immediate replies to urgent call messages.

Lawrence Gets New System

The city of Lawrence is the second municipality in Massachusetts where telephone service of the present day system employed, has been of late from what it should be under ordinary conditions. Because Lawrence presents a situation that calls urgently for immediate remedy, the New England Telephone and Telegraph company, has started the installation in Lawrence of a new machine switching telephone system that is now operating mechanically so successfully in the Boston territory.

The "change over" in Lawrence, is progressing rapidly and is well on the way to completion. In the congested territories where private telephones on party lines are "overflowing" in numbers, so to speak, the installation of the machine calls, will remove all causes for delays in the future in making calls and securing parties wanted. Subscribers under the new system will have no number to give "the operator," and no long waits for "busy lines" to clear.

Lowell District Supervisor

Leading New England telephone system executives are closely watching the developments of the new telephone call system in Boston and Lawrence. Among them is a gentleman who has been for years an attaché of the Bell system and who is a newcomer to Lowell, where he is assigned to the desk of district manager at the Appleton street telephone exchange.

ANNA PAVLOWA AND HER BALLET RUSSE

The engagement of Anna Pavlova and her Ballet Russe, at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium on Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, is rich in promise for music lovers and devotees of the dance. Representatives of the distinguished Russian dancers, in this city yesterday, completed with Albert Gleason, all details of the event and announced the program selected for presentation. It was also given out that the affair will constitute Pavlova's positive final visit here, the famed dancer now being engaged upon her last tour of the United States. This tour is confined to a comparatively few cities of the north, a four-week engagement in the City of Mexico, following her trans-continental tour of the United States, and then the dance.

ing diva departs American shores for all time. Pavlova has expressed her intention of appearing only in Paris and London in the future.

Pavlova's program at Memorial Auditorium will feature the beautiful ballet, "Chopitana," made up of nine dances of Chopin, and including the composer's mazurkas, waltzes, preludes, polonaises and so on. In this number the star has important dances, performed both as solos and in company with Alexandre Volinine, one of her premieres danseurs. The ballet proper is done by 30 feminine artists, in charming costumes of the snowy Russian character. Special lighting effects are employed in this presentation.

WHIST PARTY AND

An enjoyable whist party and entertainment was given by the La Victoire club last evening in observance of Mothers' night. Each member entertained her mother as a guest and a pleasant evening was had by all attending.

Notre Dame De Lourdes parish hall in East Pine street was prettily decorated for the occasion and shortly after 8 o'clock the card matches were in progress. Rev. Joseph Denis, O.M.I., pastor of Notre Dame de Lourdes church acted as chairman of the affair.

Among the members who provided an interesting program of musical numbers were Miss Germaine Bazin, Miss Cecile Vigneault, Miss Evelyn Fournier, Miss Eva Forrest and Miss Berangere Bazin. Refreshments were served during the evening by the hospitality committee under the chairmanship of Miss Sadie Melancon. She was assisted by the Misses Berangere and Germaine Bazin, Annette L'Heureux, Mary Peron, Diana Phinard and Marie-Rose Branchaud.

The Only Successful Method Treating Dandruff, Falling, Itching, Dry Scalp, and Promoting Growth on Bald Heads

"I never was bald but my hair was falling out all over my head. It was so thin I could feel a fly crawl over the scalp. I tried all sorts of tonics, also vasoline, but got no results until I used Griffin's. That was in 1922 and now my hair is thicker than ever before," writes Leo P. Droll, Westport, Ohio.

"Enclosed find $1.00 for another bottle of Griffin's hair grower. I was recommended to me by Mr. Thomas B. Sumner, 155 Summer st., Boston, who has been using it on my hair with great success and benefit to me," writes Richard C. Crowley, 22 Birch St., North Attleboro, Mass.

"Enclosed find $1.00 for another bottle of your petroleum hair grower. I have been using it more than a year and find it the best thing yet to make hair grow," states Joseph Grady, 21 Pearl St., N. Y. City.

"I am 21 years old and have been using your Griffin's hair grower for over a year. Itching is all gone and dandruff much less and my hair is now growing again," says Alois Hyling, Highland, Wis.

"Please find money order for 5 more bottles of Griffin's for hair and scalp. I started using it in Boston upon the recommendation of Mr. Mason, states Mr. Porter B. Smith, Chicago, Ill.

"In the many years spent as a Registered Pharmacist I have never seen a remedy for hair and scalp that equal Griffin's. I have been partially bald for several years and have tried a number of preparations in addition to those I made up myself, but not one did what Griffin's was expected to do. Griffin's was brought to my notice eight months ago by a man who was succeeding in regrowing new hair. After closing up store that night I secured a bottle of Griffin's and for 240 days not even one dose was missed. Today I have thousands of new short hairs and hundreds of long ones where for years there had been none. I am now convinced that no man need remain bald if he will use Griffin's and be patient," says Emilio Joseph Phelan, Assistant Manager Lockett's, 76 Boylston St., Boston, Mass.

"Find money order for another bottle of your Griffin's hair grower. My hair and eyebrows are starting to grow again," says Mrs. Thomas Phiberty, Peabodias, Iowa.

"Please find my check for two dollars for which please send one bottle of Griffin's hair grower to me and the other to Mr. Fred Leiner, care of Patterson Wild Animal Circus, Jefferson, Iowa. I recommended your hair grower to Mr. Leiner and he writes me that he has obtained excellent results from the start," says Mr. H. D. Phorize, 187 Auburn Street, Auburndale, Mass.

"James A. Browne, Engine 45, Andrew's square, like many of the other younger firemen, had a wonderful crop of hair and never experienced any trouble until after he had been in the department about a year. When his hair began to fall out, like firemen, letter carriers, policemen and many other men, he blamed the heavy helmet and unventilated uniform cap. And, like millions of men, he began to fight against himself but was slowly and surely losing the battle until he heard about Griffin's. Says he: 'It's good stuff and already showing results—falling has stopped and itching all gone and although using your hair grower only six months, I have grown quite a lot of new hair.' Any man or woman with the same fighting spirit shown by Mr. Browne can get the same satisfaction with the aid of Griffin's when used as directed.—Adv.

ST. MARY'S BAND
HERE SUNDAY

Music lovers of Lowell are due for a real treat in the music department next Sunday evening when the St. Mary's Industrial School band, now touring New England with remarkable success, comes here for a second annual concert. A featured outfit of 50 pieces has gained national prominence by its efforts in the past, and this year's program is up to the usual high standard. The band is directed by Rev. Leo Simon, C.F.X., and comes here under the auspices of the Naverian Brothers of St. Patrick's parish. The organization won the criticism of John McCormack, who said it was the best local band he had ever heard. The youngsters, many of them scarcely large enough to carry the instrument they play, display surprising mastery of music. All Baltimore boys and those in Lowell who will be fortunate enough to hear them here Sunday will have nothing but praise and astonishment for their musical talent.

I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and in three weeks she was able to resume her work. We continued the treatment and after using about two boxes of Ointment, with the Soap, she was healed." ## OUT OUR WAY perishes the Lowell-Salem district of the telephone corporation, is a man of much experience in his chosen field, and is intimately familiar with every interesting feature of the new machine switching telephone system, which is operating smoothly and with great success in many sections of telephone wire districts in Boston today, and which will soon be "covering" the Lawrence territories with equal success.

New Telephone Switchboards Are Electrical Marvels

Lowell citizens interested in telephone matters pertaining for the most part to quicker call service, and fewer delays and petulant "line busy's," to say nothing of "will call you," or similar annoying chatter from overworked operators, will be interested to know that Lowell will undoubtedly be visited by the telephone corporation "change over" electricians with the blue prints for the wonderful machine switching telephone system to be installed all over New England, some day, but it won't be this year.

Lowell-Salem District Manager Bartlett is rather certain that Lowell is not going to have the new system right away. As a matter of fact, it may be 10 years before Lowell district is connected with the new system.

Electrical Marvels

The switchboards of today are electrical marvels. Some of them have a capacity for 10,000 lines and each of the 10,000 lines can be reached by every operator at the switchboard.

The Boston innovation called the machine switching system is not actually a new invention, for there have been working systems employed in a small way for the past few years. The multiple switchboard was in use only a few years when the idea was conceived that it was possible to devise apparatus with which long calls could be completed without the aid of the operator. The machine switching system was the next logical step in the march of improvements.

This system, as it is to operate in Lawrence, has been the subject of constant study and experimentation over a period of more than 15 years. It has been necessary not only to produce apparatus which would operate efficiently and economically, but also to perfect all of the details necessary to make this entirely new apparatus function properly in relation to the existing apparatus, the present buildings, the practice of the public, etc.

Lawrence presents a case rather rare in telephone history. The telephone lines are increasing steadily and customers are getting on the wires in larger numbers every year. Figures? In 1912, a study of the Lawrence exchange showed 9.6 per cent. of the families taking service. Jan. 1, 1924, it was estimated that 31.6 per cent. of the families were subscribers, and for Jan. 1, 1925, we are planning our construction as to provide service to at least 61 per cent. of the families.

"In 1912, there were 2323 Lawrence business firms, and 46.5 of them had telephones. On January next, there will be a development shown, reaching 54 per cent. We are planning our new system to accommodate a 75 per cent. development in Lawrence."

District Manager Bartlett stated that actual machine switching telephones have been in use for a long period of time in smaller cities and towns, but their introduction into Boston and Lawrence, as well as Chicago and New York city, present difficult engineering problems, which are now being fully met in a very satisfactory manner.

Will Need Fewer Employees

Mr. Bartlett admitted that the installation of the new machines for connecting telephone subscribers would eliminate many employees, but declared that the new "machine switching" fully performs the function of the old system, by electrically controlling mechanical switches in a machine switching office. The machine actually establishes the connection desired by the subscriber.

Telephone experts admit that the mechanical systems now being installed in Boston and Lawrence, while Lowell will probably have to wait for ten years or more, just for a guess, really depend upon two factors—the equipment and the subscriber. The equipment must be installed properly and maintained very efficiently, but, however perfect the installation and maintenance may be, its operation will not be a success unless the subscriber uses it correctly and with some degree of intelligence. In the operation that brings in prompt service without loss, irritable delays and ruffled feelings.

FOOTBALL SQUADS BREAK CAMP AND AWAIT THE ZERO HOUR

Harvard's Crippled Organization Leaves for New Haven to Meet Yale Tomorrow—Colgate Prepares for Journey to Syracuse—Bushnell to Play Rutgers

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Football squads of the east break camp today and await only the zero hour. Rumblings to the north and west indicate a shifting of population of large intensity bent upon viewing the last stands of a stirring gridiron season.

Harvard's crippled organization, better prepared for the fray than seemed possible a few days ago when half of its members failed to answer the call of the maddeningly on account of injuries leaves for New Haven this morning to meet an undefeated Yale team. Colgate is preparing for the journey to Syracuse to settle another argument in a feud of long standing. Bucknell is coming out of Lewisburg to encounter the powerful Rutgers on neutral Philadelphia field in Philadelphia and Lehigh and Lafayette are ready for a squabble all the way in Pennsylvania.

Phil Spaulding, quarterback, and George, exceptional punter and backfield man of great experience, will be unable to fight the last battle for Harvard. Crutches and crutches support these victims of a crueling season, and they, the lucky ones, will be in the Princeton engagement, will remain with them on the sidelines. But the Crimson assets have been well guarded through-out the week and Bob Fisher may have some surprises to turn loose on the confident eleven developed by Tad Jones.

FEATHERWEIGHT TITLE

Six Boxers Meet in Elimination Tournament in Madison Square Garden

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Three featherweight contenders will emerge tonight from the elimination tournament sponsored by the New York boxing commission to determine a challenger for Johnny Dundee, who relinquished his crown.

Three sections of the United States and Canada are represented in the petition. Lou Paluso comes from Salt Lake City, Danny Kramer from Philadelphia, Jose Lombardi from Panama, Bobby Garcia from Cuba, and Bill Deane from New York will take the place of any of the contestants who fail to make the 126 pounds at the office of the boxing commission this afternoon. All of the competition will be conducted at Madison Square Garden.

LAST SCHOOL GAME HERE

Lowell High Closes Home Season With Woburn High Tomorrow

The final home game of the 1924 football schedule of the Lowell high school will be played at Alumni field tomorrow afternoon with Woburn high as opponent. An unimpressive Woburn record has caused the local coaches to sit back and smile in the consoling fact that they will not be obliged to use many of their regulars in this game. Lowell wants to have every varsity player in the pink of condition for that Thanksgiving day battle in Lawrence, and for this reason, most of the first-string talent will play the Woburn game on the sidelines.

Woburn comes to town with a record of two games won out of six played. Lowell has captured the long end on five out of seven occasions. Manchester and Piteburg being the only teams to gain verdicts over the red and gray. If Lowell beats Woburn and then turns the tables on Lawrence, the team will get a big break of seven won and lost for the season. This will be one of the best gridiron records in the history of the school.

Lawrence remains idle tomorrow. Mark Devlin has settled down to serious business in preparation for the Lowell game, and will take no chances, regardless of Lawrence's showing against Haverhill a week ago.

With the knowledge that Devlin and his entire Lawrence high team will be witnessing the local action, Lowell doesn't plan on opening up its real game against Woburn.

LOWELL-LAWRENCE

OFFICIALS NAMED

The officials for the Lawrence-Lowell game have been selected. They are: Referee, Everett W. Ireland, Tufts, umpire, Ed. P. Sherlock, Harvard, head linesman, Edgar MacNaughton, Cornell, field judge, Thomas F. Scanton, Fordham.

INDIANS TO PLAY FORT BANKS TEAM SUNDAY

Fort Banks, who has taken over the management of the Indians has booked two games for his charges. On Sunday the team will line up against the strong Fort Banks team of Boston on the Old Fort grounds, while on Thanksgiving day the Indians will travel to Haverhill for a holiday game.

The Fort Banks team is one of the strongest of its weight around Boston and will come to Lowell prepared for a strenuous battle. The Indians will put forth their best lineup and are confident of winning over the soldier outfit.

In commenting on the team's work for the season Manager Quinn said the only regret the Indians have is the failure to get the Fort Banks team to agree to play them another game. He said that the Indians offered to play the Cadets Sunday a benefit game, the proceeds to go toward a fund for the members of the Fort Banks team injured last Sunday. The Cadets turned down the proposition.

BENEFIT GAME SUNDAY AT SHEDD PARK

Shedd park has been selected by the St. Peter's Cadets as the scene of the benefit game Sunday with the St. Mary's Cadets of Lawrence. The game is to be played in the interest of Irving Loucaft and Everett Britton, two better stars who were injured in the last game. The St. Peter's team on the old Fort grounds last Sunday afternoon. Britton sustained a torn leg ligament and several bruises, while Loucaft broke his wrist and dislocated his shoulder.

With the knowledge that Devlin and his entire Lawrence high team will be witnessing the local action, Lowell doesn't plan on opening up its real game against Woburn.

Aside from the humanitarian aspect of the game the fans will see a hard-fought football battle. The Lawrence outfit is coming to Lowell intent on defeating the soldiers. The St. Mary's are still smarting under the blow they received at the hands of the Indians a few weeks ago. They figured then that they were much better than the Indians, but the best they could get was an even break of 7-7.

The down-river organization is laying claim to the Merrimack valley junior championship. They have cleaned up everything in sight down their way, and gladly accepted the invitation of the St. Peter's contest for honors here.

They will bring along a squad of experienced talent.

LOWELL FISH AND GAME ASSOCIATION

Lowell Fish and Game association members, holding a special meeting last evening in Old Fellows building in Middlesex street, discussed some of the conservation problems that are to come up at the next session of the state legislature and also the next congress. Attendance was good and great interest taken in the subject presented for discussion. President James B. Burns was in the chair.

Some of the proposed changes in fish and game laws, and there are many coming along every month in the suggested bills, include a recommendation for the Lowell association in the lion calling for an increase in the sportsman's license fee in this state. Lowell clubmen did not approve that recommendation. They did approve of the proposition that would compel the separation of the shooting and trapping license, with a special two-dollar fee for a trapping license.

Members favored increasing the license fees of non-resident hunters. More agencies are needed to accommodate sportsmen when trying to secure annual licenses in many sections of the state, the members believed.

The proposed law allowing search warrants to be issued for the purpose of entering homes or camps suspected of harboring illegal hunters and fishermen, was heartily favored last night by local fish and game clubmen.

The club has approved the continuance of the closed season on quail until 1928 in Essex, Hampton, Hampshire, Middlesex, Norfolk, and Worcester counties. Approval was also given to the recommendation for a two-year closed season on muskrats, but not on ruffed grouse.

LOWELL Y. M. S. C. AT BUNTING PARK

Soccer fans hereabouts will be given an opportunity to see two good games over the week-end. Tomorrow afternoon at Bunting park, the Lowell Y.M.C. team will play the Abbot Worsted team of the Industrial League. Bunting park, while Sunday at Fort Village, the National League Abbot team will line up against Arlington mills of Lawrence.

Tomorrow's local game should be a hummer as the Lowell team is holding down second place in the league standing, being next to the Whites of Worcester. The standings:

PLAN TRACK SCHEDULE

High School Athletic Head Has Great Difficulty in Arranging Meets Here

Considerable difficulty is being experienced by Sub Master James P. Conway, athletic supervisor at the high school, in making up a satisfactory schedule for the track team.

At the present time, he believes it will be impossible to have more than four home meets, whereas in previous years the number was six or seven.

Among the teams which are likely to be chosen as competitors of the local outfit at home are Malden, Brockton, C. C. High and Lynn English. Brockton is a new-comer on Lowell's list and is expected that arrangements will be completed with this year, in order to widen the scope of Lowell's activities.

Newton, which always has one of the strongest track teams in the state, is willing to appear here on a Friday afternoon. Undoubtedly an afternoon meet will not draw as large a crowd as one on Saturday evening, but pressure is being exerted on Mr. Conway to accept this offer in order to get his team acquainted among the stronger high school track teams in the Boston district.

Medford, which produces stars galore here during the indoor track season, may possibly come for an outdoor meet early in the spring.

Prior to this year, Lowell boys have been handicapped in the state meets held in Boston in that they were compelled to run in Boston on an afternoon and in Lowell the same evening. When the team is entered in Boston meets, there will be no local meets.

Mr. Conway believes, and men well acquainted with him, that the Lowell team likely become much better known by taking part in Boston meets than in inter-school meets, and it is with this idea in mind that he has made arrangements for the Lowell squad to enter in the B.A.A., the Huntington school and the Massachusetts High School association indoor track meets, to be held in Boston on Feb. 14, 21 and 28, respectively.

The Lowell squad will take part in only one out-of-town inter-school meet. It is planned, and that will be with Lawrence. Lawrence came here last year and Lowell will alternate this year by going to Lawrence.

MARCO AWARDED DECISION OVER ROSSI AFTER STRENUOUS BATTLE

Canadian Piles Up Early Lead, With Opponent Staging Whirlwind Rally in Final Round—Bout One of Best of Season—Foley Kayos Robinson

Sammy Marco, Canadian lightweight, unanimously received, proved a proper one. This semi-final was a hummer while it lasted. Harry Foley, a great favorite here a year ago, made his initial bow of the season and he got away on the right foot, by scoring a three-round knockout victory over Larry Robinson of Cambridge. He dropped Robinson three times with terrific blows to the jaw. Robinson took a nine count on the third round and George Petrakos of Lowell won the decision over Johnny McBride of Lawrence in the other six-round event.

It was announced that on next Thursday evening, Thanksgiving, and the right foot, by scoring a three-round knockout victory over Larry Robinson of Cambridge. Robinson took a nine count on the third round and George Petrakos of Lowell won the decision over Johnny McBride of Lawrence in the other six-round event.

It was announced that on next Thursday evening, Thanksgiving, and the right foot, by scoring a three-round knockout victory over Larry Robinson of Cambridge. He dropped Robinson three times with terrific blows to the jaw. Robinson took a nine count on the third round and George Petrakos of Lowell won the decision over Johnny McBride of Lawrence in the other six-round event.

ABBOT WORSTEDS PLAY ARLINGTONS

A big soccer game is on the card at Fort Village Sunday afternoon when the Abbot Worsteds and Arlington mills of Lawrence meet in a crucial National League game. Many Lowell fans will want to see the Abbot take the measurement of the Arlington outfit, which at this writing is leading the league. Abbot have strengthened their lineup by the acquisition of McKay and Ferrie, and they will probably be in there Sunday. The Abbot management has arranged to take up a collection at the game for George Clegg, well-known soccer player, who is now confined to a hospital.

Sunday at Shedd park, one of the best, but little, and the St. Peter's Cadets will engage the St. Mary's Cadets for the first time in a benefit game for living Lourenco and Everett Britton, latter players who were hurt in the memorable game on the fair grounds last Sunday. This action on the part of the St. Peter's comes as an aftermath to St. Peter's most bitterly contested football games ever witnessed in the city of Lowell. It has been the talk of the town since its occurrence.

When it was learned that Lourenco and Britton had sustained severe injuries in the hectic clash, the St. Peter's got together and planned to do something in the way of consulting them. The St. Peter's got together and planned to do something in the way of consulting them. The St. Peter's got together and planned to do something in the way of consulting them.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock with most of the St. Peter's regulars in uniform. The St. Mary's will bring along a formidable outfit, one even stronger than the eleven which fought the Indians to a 7-7 tie earlier in the season.

That the fans will double generously to this cause goes without saying. There should be no need of enthusiastic solicitation at Shedd park. Football fandom here is acquainted with the cause of the men who were hurt. They themselves have not sought this benefit game. In fact, they would not have been there if it were not for the fact that they were there.

Needless to say, Britton and Lourenco are done with football for the present season. Their loss to the St. Peter's at this critical stage of the year, with the O.M.I. Cadets game scheduled for Thanksgiving, comes as a severe blow to the championship aspirations of the eleven upon Gorham street.

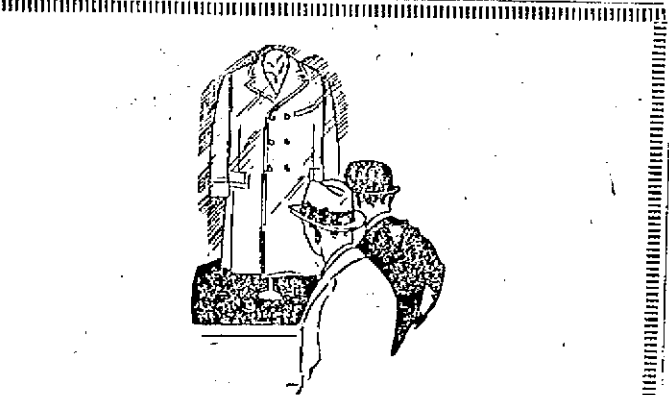

The Butlers will put a strong team on the gridiron at Alumni field on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day. The team will be composed of the best players from the O.M.I. Cadets and the St. Peter's Cadets.

Lowell high school team at Alumni field tomorrow afternoon. Lowell will be working over the outcome. Lowell will be working over the outcome. Lowell will be working over the outcome.

The big affair on the high school calendar is the game with Lawrence at O'Sullivan park. Lowell will be working over the outcome. Lowell will be working over the outcome. Lowell will be working over the outcome.

Remember that the Thanksgiving day game in Lawrence will start at 10 o'clock in the morning instead of 2:30 p.m.

with the high school, and probably others who escape our attention just now.

You could almost put two eleven composed entirely of brothers on the field, and get Bro. Bierman to coach them along for the sake of consistency.

Would it surprise you to see the Lowell-Lawrence game end in a tie?

The first street oval will have the call for Centralville fans Sunday when the Wildcats and the Ponies, two local eleven, will mix matters in a district game. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock. The Ponies have been trying to get on the season, but were told to get a reputation. Now that they have succeeded in attaining this latter requisite, the Ponies will take them on.

There will be plenty of money bet on the Ponies-Wildcats game, with the Ponies probably on the long end of most wagers.

A week from Sunday the Ponies will play the Kenwood Rovers in the final game of the season.

The Ricard Wanderers are now champions of the 135-140-pound championship of the city. The Wanderers are anxious to get a crack at the Kenwood Rovers. This would not draw a large crowd. The Wanderers feel that they have a logical right for a game with the Rovers for the championship instead of the Ponies, who were only last Sunday eliminated by the Wanderers from such honors.

The Winter Seconds will play the O.M.I. on the South common tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. The winners will play the Gloucesters for the 75-85-pound championship on Thanksgiving day.

Since the O.M.I. Cadet Seconds have cancelled their game with the Acre Athletics, the Junior team will accept the challenge of the Bowers R.X. to a game on the North common tomorrow. The Acre also accept the challenge of the Immaculate Conception team which is scheduled for the 110-pound championship on Saturday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock.

The O.M.I. Cadets and Butlers will hold practice this evening. The St. Peter's Cadets will also meet tonight. The Cumberland of West Centralville challenge the Cadet Seconds on Saturday A.C. to a game next Sunday. They also challenge the Cubs. Jean Mercier has been signed up by the Cumberland and will play the field. This team claims the 110-pound championship of the city. For games, call 592-X and ask for Manager Reynolds.

The strong Fort Rams team of Boston will come to Lowell Sunday to play the Indians on Gorham park (Old Fair Grounds). The latter outfit is composed of a number of former college and high school stars and have set up a fine record for the season.

St. Mary's Cadets of Lawrence, opponents of the St. Peter's here tomorrow, are coached by a former Villa Nova star.

The Immaculate Conceptions would like a game for Sunday. Manager Murphy states the Cadet Seconds are afraid to play the team.

Jimmy Cox, who was seen here frequently last year as second baseman for the Lynn Cornets, is playing football this year. He is holding down right end on the Dedham A.C. eleven.

Several admirers of Joe Nolan of this city, captain of the Canisius college eleven, are planning to watch him in action against Holy Cross in Worcester tomorrow.

The Acre eleven has been unable to secure a game for Sunday. They demand any 110-pound team which challenges the Immaculate Conceptions, Linwoods, Wanderer Thirds and the Cubs to answer. They would like to communicate with these teams. Call 6282-R and ask for Mary.

The management in charge of the Butler-Cadets game at Alumni field on Thanksgiving day has agreed that members of the fair sex to act as ticket sellers.

The manager of the Unties would like to have a word in this argument pertaining to the junior football championship.

There are four teams claiming the championship, namely the Franklins, the St. Peter's Cadets, the Unties and the Lowell Cubs, each team having equal claims.

The St. Peter's Seconds and the Franklins defeated the Unties, the St. Peter's Seconds defeated the Franklins, the Cubs defeated the St. Peter's Seconds, and the Unties defeated the Cubs.

Therefore, the only logical way to settle it is by the elimination route.

The St. Peter's Seconds are to meet the Cubs on the South common Sunday. So far, so good, but the Franklins refuse to meet the Unties, yet they go "draggling" what they can do to the Unties.

A football game was never won by talk, Franklins!

The Unties when playing the Franklins played a superior brand of football, having 4 first downs to the Franklins' eight, but had all the breaks against them.

NEW STABLES AT SARATOGA

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Three new stables, increasing accommodations by 55 stalls, an addition to the west wing of the clubhouse, for use as administrative offices, and an addition to the jockey club building, are to be built at the Saratoga race track before the season opens. It was announced here today by the Saratoga Association for the improvement of the breed of horses.

TRANSATLANTIC RADIO BROADCASTING TESTS

Transatlantic radio broadcasting tests will be conducted during the week of Nov. 24-29, with practically every station in America participating on this side of the Atlantic, and stations in England and many of those on the continent doing their utmost to get their signals through to America.

The tests, which are being managed by Arthur H. Lynch, editor of Radio Broadcasting magazine, will be held between 10 p. m. and midnight, Eastern Standard time, on every night of the week. The first hour, between 10 and 11 p. m. will be given over to the American stations and the second hour, between 11 and 12 p. m., to the foreign stations.

The American stations participating in the tests will include 510 in the United States, 50 in Canada, all the stations in Cuba, the leading stations

In Porto Rico and Station CXL, Mexico City. The 11 stations of the British Broadcasting company and a number of high powered stations in continental countries will send to America.

In order that reception of foreign signals and programs may be checked accurately and speedily, the Postal Telegraph company has arranged to rush messages announcing receipt of foreign signals to Radio Broadcast Magazine, Garden City, New York. The managers of the undertaking request that all messages be prepaid and that they contain the names and addresses of the senders. Arrangements are being made to inform Europe of what ever success American receivers report.

DAWES PLAN HAS RESTORED CONFIDENCE IN GERMANY

America's Reparation Experts, Who Went to Europe To Straighten Out Post-War Financial Muddle Returned on Homeric Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—America's reparation experts, who have been in Europe to straighten out the post-war financial muddle, returned on the steamship Homeric today convinced that the Dawes plan already had restored confidence to Germany.

All agree that the installation of the plan is proceeding with greater success than its framers expected. The party included Owen D. Young, originator of the technical features of the plan; Rufus D. Daves, brother of the vice-president-elect, who had charge of the Berlin office of the agent-general of reparations; H. M. Robinson of Los Angeles, who had charge of the organization of the reparations bank; and George F. Auld, who organized the accounting service.

Germany already has met all payments under the Dawes plan to date, Mr. Young says, and as a result of the recent $200,000,000 loan, payments for the year terminating Aug. 31, 1925, already are in the hands of S. Parker Gilbert, now agent-general of the reparations commission.

The general effect of the application of the plan was of such an encouraging character, Mr. Young continued, that it was not expected Germany would have to float another loan next year. German industry, he said, has taken kindly to the plan.

Concerning the French attitude toward Germany, Mr. Young said he believed that "Mr. Herriot is convinced that the greatest security of France lies in the establishment of more complete democracy within Germany." The French and Belgian evacuation of the Ruhr was being carried in the finest spirit and was doing much to heal the breach, which has widened with the continued occupation, he said.

The Homeric, buffeted by storms and gales on her trip across the Atlantic docked 12 hours late.

BEHIND THE SCENES WITH TELEPHONE WORKERS

Telephone users will have an opportunity next Monday evening, Nov. 24, to go behind the scenes with telephone workers and to see for themselves the ways and wherefores of telephone operating. The entertainment will be given at Liberty hall, Memorial Auditorium, under the auspices of the Lowell chamber of commerce, which has arranged with Manager Leathers of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company to bring to Lowell a unique and interesting demonstration.

Actual switchboards will be set up on the stage—not dummy ones, but live switchboards duplicating all the intricate electrical features of a regular central office switchboard. They are complete with storage batteries and ringing circuits, alarm bells, lamps, cords and plugs, keys, multiple jacks and the trunks or toll lines necessary to complete connections in the same office or between different offices.

These switchboards will be operated and explained not by professional entertainers, but by real telephone operators—young women who leave their regular switchboard service to demonstrate their daily work to interested audiences.

They are Miss Jane Kohn, Miss Ethel Ackroyd, Miss Marjorie Goodwin, Miss Gladys Laurie and Miss Irene Trahan. The program opened with a short talk, after which a reel of motion pictures will be shown. The greater portion of the evening, however, will be given over to real telephone operating, both local and toll.

These young women operators will demonstrate various kinds of telephone calls, progress of which can be watched with a completeness that not even a visit to a large central office can match. There the work of only one operator can be observed as she performs her single part. With the demonstration board every move from the time the calling subscriber lifts his receiver from the hook until the call is answered at the distant telephone, is before the eye. To most people the number of operations necessary to complete a single call is likely to be surprising.

Incidentally, telephone users will be shown what brings about some of our telephone annoyances—busy lines, slow answers, cut-offs, etc., and many good-natured hints aimed at securing subscribers' help in bettering telephone service feature several sketches

TYPING DEMONSTRATION AT HIGH SCHOOL

The importance of rhythm and accuracy in typing was demonstrated to the pupils of the commercial department of the Lowell high school yesterday morning when Miss Bessie Friedman of Brooklyn, N. Y., holder of the woman's trophy for speed and accuracy in typing and champion woman typist of the world, gave an interesting talk and demonstration in the Irish auditorium.

Using a No. 4 Underwood typewriter, Miss Friedman reached a total of 145 words per minute from dictation given by Miss E. B. Beach of the stenographic department of the high school. Her copy was errorless, from copy Miss Friedman accurately wrote 134 words per minute.

In explaining the importance of rhythm in accurate typing, Miss Friedman demonstrated the erratic touch, and the rhythmic touch in which 50 words per minute were correctly written.

The concentration test, in which Mr. Beach dictated five columns of figures, each line containing five figures and which were correctly written and added by the typist as she wrote along at a rate of 128 words per minute was the feature of the demonstration and showed what can be done by concentration.

In the contest which won her the trophy, Miss Friedman wrote a total of 125 words while in other contests a total of 148 words was reached.

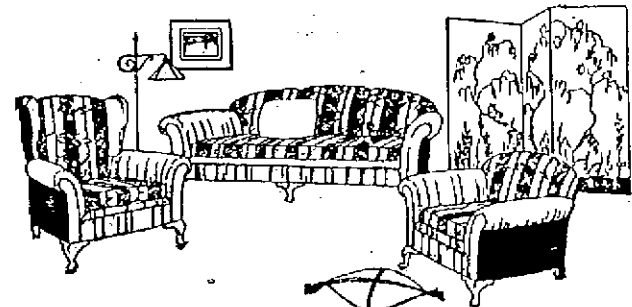

Miss Friedman uses the practical business touch system which is taught in all the larger schools of the country.

STUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

John Buttski, 45 years of age, a junk dealer living at 132 Howard street, this city, was slightly injured about 12:45 o'clock yesterday when he was struck by an auto operated by Jacob Reed, 12 Canterbury street, Lawrence, on the state highway, near Kenwood. The well insured vehicle was summoned and removed the injured man to St. John's hospital, where his condition is regarded as not serious.

In which telephone men and women take part.

The entertainment will be given without charge for admission. An instructive and amusing evening, as well as a cordial welcome, is assured those who attend.

Overstuffed Suites For Smaller Rooms

FREQUENTLY, customers ask us for upholstered furniture that is not too massive for the smaller rooms found in the modern house.

We have searched the furniture market and discovered this three-piece Stuffer Suite at one of the best manufacturers. It has all the comfort of the heavier suites without their clumsiness. See it at our store, covered in taupe velour and very attractively priced at $275. May be had in combination tapestry and velour covering as pictured, or all tapestry.

With this suite we are showing a Mahogany Davenport Table; special at $25.

And a Bridge Lamp with polychrome standard and silk shade. Priced only $12, but worth much more.

TO ROUT INSURGENTS

Republican Leader Would Eliminate Insurgent Groups From Committees

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Republicans in congress who have been privately talking about "reading out of the party" members of the insurgent group found an open advocate today when Representative Treadway of Massachusetts urged that the insurgent committee assignments in the newly elected congress be eliminated.

Representative Treadway, who called on President Coolidge, said he would "advocate grouping these men as part of the minority of the house, and make committee assignments accordingly."

"We have suffered long enough from their influence," he added, "and they should no longer have controlling places."

HAVERHILL WOOD HEEL FIRMS ORGANIZE

HAVERHILL, Nov. 20.—The Haverhill Wood Heel Manufacturers Association, representing 20 wood heel firms, was organized last night with the following officers: President, C. R. Saunders; treasurer, Marie Lason; secretary, Arthur Mullins; board of trustees, Arthur Wason, Alfred Brady, C. R. Saunders, Howard Belting, Ray Talley, Arthur Mullins and Louis Corvitz. The association will represent the manufacturers in all their dealings with the union and in general organization matters. The new association will start arbitration procedure at once with the union on prices for the year 1925.

OPEN LONGEST AUTO BRIDGE IN WORLD

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 20.—Governors of seventeen states and their wives, who arrived last night, assumed a round of entertainment today which ended with the formal opening of Gandy bridge, said to be the longest automobile bridge in the world.

The visitors were guests of honor at a banquet and dance last night at the Tampa Yacht and Country club. The governors and their wives will spend tonight at St. Petersburg, leaving early tomorrow by motor for Sebring, the next stop in their tour. The governors left Jacksonville Tuesday after concluding their annual conference.

IDENTIFY WOMEN HELD ON SWINDLING CHARGE

ZURICH, Switzerland, Nov. 20.—Two women arrested at a hotel here on suspicion of swindling have been identified, the police announce, as Mrs. Genevieve Paddisford, divorced wife of a California oil man, and her daughter, who have been involved in a number of police incidents in Vienna and Switzerland during the last two years.

They were registered as Miss J. Leahy of London and Miss Clay of California, but carried passports under the name of MacKenney, mother and daughter.

MODIFICATION OF INCOME TAX LAW URGED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Repeal or modification of the publicity feature of the income tax law was urged today in a statement by Senator Harrison, Mississippi, a member of the Senate Finance committee, who supported the measure when it passed the senate.

Asserting that he had become convinced that the practice of giving publicity to the returns would not encourage honest enterprise nor work to the general welfare, Mr. Harrison asked co-operation of the republicans in the senate for changing the law.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE CHARGED

Geo. W. Plummer, Jr., and Mrs. Marion Risteen Held Without Bail

Charged With Killing of Woman's Husband, Fred R. Risteen

SALEM, Nov. 20.—George W. Plummer, Jr., and Mrs. Marion Risteen, both of Beverly, charged with murder in the first degree in the killing of the latter's husband, Fred R. Risteen, were held without bail for the grand jury this afternoon following a hearing in the local district court.

Their case will come up at the January term of superior court here, it is believed. Risteen's body was found in Newbury's pond at North Beverly, Oct. 4, by two boys who were out fishing. The body was twisted up with wire and heavily weighted with parts of discarded automobiles. In a statement to the police after his arrest Plummer said Risteen died after a fight they had near the pond. The police claim he admitted putting the body into the pond but Plummer said the victim's wife had no part in his death. Plummer was a boarder at the Risteen home.

REPORT COOLIDGE TO CALL ARMS CONFERENCE

GENEVA, Nov. 20 (By the Associated Press).—The latest rumor circulating in Geneva on the disarmament question is that President Coolidge will convene a new arms conference not to meet in Washington, but somewhere in Europe, perhaps at The Hague. Those already circulating this rumor insist that the Washington government already has sounded the new British government on the subject.

First Denial Here

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(By the Associated Press).—The state department issued today a flat denial of rumors current in Geneva that the Washington government was taking steps to convene a disarmament conference in Europe.

The department's statement follows: "In answer to a question by the Associated Press today, the acting secretary of state authorized the statement that there was no truth in the report circulated in Geneva that the Washington government was taking steps to convene a disarmament conference in Europe."

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE

Annual Seal Selling Campaign by the Lowell Tuberculosis Council

Lowell tuberculosis council's annual Christmas seal selling campaign for the benefit of the organization fund ended in early morning hours of today. Scourges inflicted on the lives of young and old, will officially start in early and suburbs on Tuesday, Dec. 2, and continue until the close of the holiday season of the passing year.

The council is advertising widely by neatly printed white invitation cards of postal size, the rally to be conducted in Liberty hall, next Friday evening, Nov. 21, at 8 o'clock, at which time interesting speakers will versed in the subjects upon which they are to discuss, will appear and present facts concerning the safeguarding of children's health.

Among the speakers will be Miss Anna J. Johnson, educational director of Massachusetts Tuberculosis League; Dr. Francis A. Flanagan, director of hygiene in Lowell public schools; and Miss Nathalie E. Marshall, nutrition worker in Lowell tuberculosis council's field work.

"Health Movies" as added features of the meeting Friday night in the interests of the health of Lowell youth. All persons are welcome to attend the meeting which the council hopes will attract all health workers of the campaign to combat tuberculosis in all its phases.

The Christmas Seal sale committee is directed by Bertha Marjorie Abbott, who is city chairman, and Julia West Stevens, town chairman. The directors of the Lowell Tuberculosis Council, who include representatives from Middlesex Women's club, Lowell chamber of commerce, Bowditch Guild and Lowell Social Service League are as follows:

President, C. H. Hobbart; secretary, Julia West Stevens; Miss Bertha M. Abbott, Mrs. R. E. Corlew; Mrs. C. E. French, Mrs. Otto Hockmeyer, Miss Helen Lambert, Mrs. William L. Robertson, Ralph E. Rineis, Henry A. Smith and Mrs. J. K. Whittier.

The new Christmas seals to be distributed in the coming sales campaign under the direction of Lowell Tuberculosis council, are very attractive. They show a feminine figure holding a shining torch and displaying a shield upon which is emblazoned the familiar insignia with the two red cross lines.

At the meeting of the seal-selling campaign committee started this morning that stamps somewhat similar in appearance, but not the genuine tuberculosis Christmas seals, are now being sold extensively on the streets of the city by children. Notice was given to the public this morning that the genuine Christmas seals contain the inscription "Health—Christmas—1924," and that the other stamps are not being sold to help the cause supported by the Lowell Tuberculosis council.

The council stamps are sold for a penny apiece and patrons of the charitable cause may buy as many stamps as they desire to, in block sheets at a time, if they desire. The money obtained from the sale of the Christmas seals is the local committee's only source of income.

27 CHINESE STOWAWAYS TAKEN-OFF STEAMER

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—Twenty-seven Chinese stowaways were taken off the steamship President Van Buren today as the vessel left for New York continuing a round-the-world voyage. They were held at immigration headquarters and it was said would be returned to China on the steamship N. S. Dollar, which is due here next week.

Officers of the President Van Buren said that the men had come aboard at Shanghai. They were discovered soon after the vessel sailed and put to work as members of the crew, and at Singapore the United States consul refused to certify them as belonging to the ship's company. It was announced that immigration officials are conducting an investigation of the incident.

HAPPY AND SATISFIED WOMEN NEVER SMOKE

VIENNA, Nov. 20.—Happy and satisfied women almost never smoke, in the opinion of Dr. R. H. Haefliger, gynecologist, who some time ago stated a considerable sum by his assertion that smoking alters women's faces to their disadvantage, making them look more masculine than feminine.

"Women who smoke must have at most invariably contracted the habit at a time when they were especially unhappy," he avers in his book, "The Smoking Woman."

"Women regard smoking as something 'smart,' he continues. "Smoking affords them an opportunity to exhibit a surprisingly large number of playful and therefore graceful movements and positions."

ANTI-RABIES SERUM

Agent Francis J. O'Hare of the board of health announced this noon that his department will secure the anti-rabies serum for the two police officers, Daniel F. Lynch and Charles Brown, and Alfred Reath, who were bitten by a dog in the police station recent. This treatment will be necessary for the victims as the dog was found to have been suffering with the rabies when it attacked them.

FOREIGN POLICY OF JAPAN

Baron Hayashi Says World Should Proceed Cautiously on Disarmament

Also Urges a Waiting Policy With Regard to Situation in China

OXFORD, Eng., Nov. 20.—The world should proceed most cautiously in any scheme of disarmament, Baron Hayashi, Japanese ambassador to Great Britain, told the Oxford international assembly in an address last night on "The Foreign Policy of Japan."

"The League of Nations was yet too young," the ambassador said, adding: "Let it wait until it reaches full age before it attempts such a great task as disarmament. I think the question of disarmament should be talked over slowly."

Baron Hayashi also advised a waiting policy with regard to the present situation in China, declaring the powers should not be in a hurry to intervene. On the other hand, China should not be over-hasty in terminating extra territorial rights and concessions, even if she is less independent now than Turkey or Afghanistan.

BOSTON POLICE GUARD AGAINST TONG WAR

BOSTON, Nov. 20.—In special orders issued today to captains of all police divisions in the city, Supt. Crowley called for all Chinese laundries and Chinese places of business to prevent attacks by Tong gunmen. The superintendent said that many Chinese laundrymen had complained that strangers were lurking about their premises and asked for protection.

The body of Wong Tak Gin, a laundryman, was found on the floor of his shop here Sunday night with two bullet wounds in the head.

MATRIMONIAL

Dr. Thomas F. Carroll and Miss Helen V. Tompkins were married Monday at the chapel of the Immaculate Conception church by Rev. Thomas P. Murphy of Malden, a cousin of the bridegroom. Miss Minnie B. Salmon of Worcester and Mr. Charles I. Bouillier, Jr., Harvard '25, attended the couple. Dr. and Mrs. Carroll will be at home to friends at 45 Buttrick road Jan. 1.

The sign-man then explained that his job was to walk around through the sand tunnel and advertise the two villages. "I seldom get back on the other side of these light-holes," he said, "so I forget which one leads to which place. However, let's try this one first."

And the sign-man started to crawl through one of the light holes. Pip barked and followed him. And then Jack, too, got down on his knees and went into the hole. Flop stayed on Jack's shoulder. As they crawled along the sign-man suddenly said, "I believe we're in the wrong tunnel."

"Oh, let's go on, anyway," said Jack. "And if we land in the village of small people, Pip and Flop and I will crawl out and then you can turn around and go back to the big cavern." So the sign-man kept on crawling and finally reached a big open place. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton
MISS MUFFET'S RIDDLE

IT WAS ALL DONE UP IN PINK AND BLUE SATIN, RIBBON AND LOOKED WONDERFUL.

"Here's a riddle in rhyme," said the riddle lady. "See if you can guess it!"
"The fairies have spun some lace so fine,
"Would never do for a dress of mine,
"But 'twould be fine for an elfin fay.
"Who wouldn't mind if he flew away."
The silver thread was spun at night,
From a single shred of moonbeam bright.
And patterned after the rising sun,
With rays like wheel-spokes neatly run.
"When each fine piece was done—then
And all spread out on the grass and dried,
For moonbeam lace, when fairies get through is sure to be damp on account of the dew."
"It looked like fairyland washing day,
If you had chanced to pass the way,
And you'd never dream each skirt and blouse
Was nothing else than a spider's house."
"Is it a cobweb?" shivered Miss Muffet.
"That's exactly what it is," said the riddle lady. "A cobweb. What will you have for a prize, my dear?"
"A box of candy, if you please," said Miss Muffet promptly. "I am tired of candy and whey."
"A five-pound box of chocolate drops for Miss Muffet," said the riddle lady.
So the footman in red velvet who

PENALIZED FOR BOMBING HOAX

Director Hays Denounces
Movie Men Who Placed
Bomb in Newspaper Office

Also Orders Movie Manager to Discharge Everybody in Office Implicated

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 21.—Will Hays, national director of moving pictures, has taken an official part in penalizing a local film theatre manager, his press agent and a third person they hired to place in the editorial rooms of the San Diego Union, a realistic appearing infernal machine that lacked nothing but actual dynamite to be a genuine, as a press agent, stunt.

In a telegraphed reply from New York to protest writ by John D. Spreckels, owner of the Union, Hays characterized the stunt as an "outrage, deplorable and inexcusable from which no condemnation is too severe, a type of publicity that must be eliminated."

"We will pursue this matter vigorously," Hays promised, "and will do everything possible in this particular case to prevent similar outrages elsewhere."

Hays' telegram stated also that the Los Angeles office of the theatre company had been instructed to dismiss everybody connected with the bombing hoax.

C. C. Pratt, Max Brunstein and William Pife, manager, press agent and hired man implicated in the fake bombing, are still in the county jail in default of $2000 bonds each. They will be arraigned today on a charge of conspiracy based on a section of the penal code prescribing a penalty of two years imprisonment, $5000 fine or both.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Ralph Laprise, 16-year-old operator of the automobile which struck and killed James Harrington in Thorndike street on Oct. 17 last, appeared in juvenile court this morning on a charge of manslaughter. As the inquest report has not yet been filed, the case was continued until Dec. 2.

RECOUNT COMPLETED

Rechecking Fails to Disclose
Any Errors — Braden's
Lead Over Corbett 85

Petitioner Accepts Decision as Final and Thanks Those Who Aided in Recount

The recount of the majority vote of the recent city primaries was completed at 10 o'clock this morning by the election commissioners, and resulted in no change in the nominees.

Thomas H. Braden, who held second position in the original count, leading Thomas J. Corbett by a margin of 104 votes, retained his position, but his lead was cut to 85 votes.

Yesterday afternoon the recount of the nine wards was completed, but the rechecking of the tabulation in precincts 1 and 2 of ward 1, requested by Attorney Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, representing Mr. Corbett, after he had discovered a clerical error of 50 votes in precinct 2 of the same ward, remained to be done this morning.

At 9:30 o'clock the commissioners began this work and completed it within half an hour, no errors being discovered.

The recount and original vote in the majority contest follow:

| Ward    | Recount | Original |
|---------|---------|----------|
| Ward 1  | 123     | 124      |
| Ward 2  | 6535    | 6528     |
| Ward 3  | 6015    | 6007     |
| Ward 4  | 1843    | 1837     |
| Ward 5  | 2423    | 2423     |
| Ward 6  | 6100    | 6111     |
| Ward 7  | 3764    | 3732     |
| Ward 8  | 61      | 63       |
| Ward 9  | 2662    | 2650     |
| Ward 10 | 183     | 189      |

Joseph E. Sullivan, representing Mr. Corbett, following the completion of the recount, thanked the election commissioners for their work and said that he was satisfied with the recount.

Concerning the protests entered by Attorney O'Sullivan for Mr. Corbett during the progress of the recount, he said that as the results showed no large discrepancies, he was satisfied to drop the matter with the completion of the recount.

Mr. Corbett, when questioned this morning, said he also was satisfied with the recount and that the discrepancies disclosed were due, in all probability, to clerical errors resulting from the exceptionally heavy vote which was cast at the primary.

He said that he petitioned for a recount when urged to by friends, who believed that his opponent's lead was sufficiently small to warrant such action. With this done, he said, he is willing to abide by the decision.

To everyone who helped him during his campaign and during the recount, he expressed his sincere thanks. He concluded that he would accept the verdict of the people, as expressed at the polls, with good will toward all and malice toward none.

Interesting Talk on Physical Education

physical education means today in the regular school program.

"Physical education, as a subject in the schools, has made a great progress," said Miss Summers. "It is not new. A great portion of the education of the Greeks and the Romans in ancient history consisted of physical education. The training of the body was as paramount as the training of the mind and body must work in concert. Romans believed that an able body constituted an able soldier. After the Roman conquest more time was given to the cultivation of the mind, but that the mind and body must work in conjunction was proven by the lack of progress in the dark ages.

"John Milton, one of our first and greatest educators, advised an hour and a half of recreation followed by rest previous to the dinner hour. Rousseau, another great educator, said 'The body must be vigorous in order to obey the soul. The weaker the body, the more it commands; the stronger it is, the more it obeys.'

"In the 19th century Denmark and Switzerland took up the study of physical education. Massachusetts was the first state to introduce it in her schools. In 1825, Charles Peck taught physical education in the Roundhill school in Northampton. He encouraged the minds of the people that temperance in play, regularity in exercise and motion in general must be taught in the earliest stages of life. Physical education soon emphasizes itself in the department and morale of the student.

"In 1826 Harvard opened the first gymnasium in the state. This novel advancement in physical education was followed by the opening of a gymnasium and swimming pool at the corner of West and Tremont streets in Boston. From this time up to 1860 education came in periods of enthusiasm. In that year Mr. Holyoke opened the first gymnasium for women. Thirty years later the Swedish system of physical education was introduced.

"It was not, however, until 1917 that physical education became tantamount in the school program. A law was passed making it compulsory in schools and now we have 33 schools in the state which include this topic in their programs. The Massachusetts law states that 'games and athletics shall be taught in all public schools.' Our law is different than in many of the other states and more elastic, leaving much to the initiative and discretion of the supervisor.

"In our school buildings, provisions are made for proper physical exercise. Last year $35,000,000 was expended in new school buildings and these are all modernly equipped for physical culture. Close co-operation with the health department of the state enables us to do much more in our work.

"Three things are considered in our physical education. First, health promotion, which calls for regular recreational periods, drills, rhythmic games and other sources of exercise; second, health, protection, dealing with the proper lighting, heating and sanitation of the school buildings; and third, the maintenance of the correction of defects found in children, such as posture of limbs and other corrective methods.

"You who are soon going out as teachers have a wonderful opportunity to promote physical education in the rural schools. Although you may find it difficult in classifying your programs you will find an ample field in which to operate. Remember that contact with others means much in the development of the social and moral character of the child.

"Train for success, chiefly in games; work for success; expect success. Success will come in the most difficult times if we paddle and never say die."

SEA-GOING WIFE OF SKIPPER TELLS STIRRING STORY OF SHIPWRECK

Mrs. L. B. Bishop of Malden Recounts Experiences
Encountered in Her First Shipwreck in 27 Trips to Sea
—Long Exposure, Hunger, Thirst and Distress

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—A stirring story of shipwreck, long exposure in an open boat, hunger and thirst and distress, was told today by Mrs. L. B. Bishop of Malden, sea-going wife of the skipper of the schooner, Susan B. With Mrs. Katherine Woodworth of Rockport, her 18-year-old niece, Capt. Bishop, John Bishop, their son, who was the schooner's mate, and three members of the crew, the 60-year-old woman who has been to sea 27 years, was landed here after her first shipwreck by the steaming City of Atlanta, which had picked up the party from a yawl 150 miles off the Virginia Capes.

The little group of seven, huddled in the open boat, for 63 hours, with food made unpalatable by salt water saturation, brought rescue to them by wearing a blanket. Three times previously other vessels had passed them, skirts and petticoats waved by the women as a signal.

"We could not have stood it much longer," Mrs. Bishop said. "The spirits of the shipwrecked ones alive by song had preceded her ashore. But this she disclaimed. 'How could one sing under such circumstances?' she said. 'I did try to be brave,' was her remark.

The Susan B's refugees lost their ship as they set out from the schooner's side. The vessel owned in Providence, was laden with coal for St. Stephen, R. I., had been wrecked Sunday night by a northwest gale and heavy seas and with cabin flooded and seams opened, had to be abandoned Monday morning.

It was off Winter Quarter lightship that Capt. Bishop gave word to abandon ship. The women first, then the crew and last the skipper went overboard. Capt. Bishop missed his footing as he let himself down from the pitching deck and fell into the water. The tossing seas engulfed him as he went down. Then Wilbur E. Jarrod, of Vineyard Haven, a seaman, plunged overboard from the yawl, stroked his way to the drowning captain, and as he rose, took him in tow. They were helped aboard.

The heavy seas shipped by the yawl spoiled food and stores and as they drifted Monday and Tuesday, through succeeding day and night, the Susan B's people became exhausted, as they had little sleep and no food.

They had drifted 80 miles when the City of Atlanta picked them up on her way to Savannah.

Hot baths, food and medical attention had restored them when they arrived today.

Was Instantly Killed

The special primary would be at the city election, but withheld making any definite announcement of the date until the city solicitor's opinion could be had.

He said this morning that the solicitor had agreed the special primary could be held with the special election, but that a special ballot would have to be prepared for the occasion.

The arrangement, Mr. McKenney said, would save the city the cost of a special primary in Ward 5, which would amount to approximately $500.

Already five candidates for the vacant seat in the council had taken out nomination papers, and it is expected that several more will do so within a few days. The candidates who have already taken out papers were instructed to file them before the office closes Saturday. They are: William L. Wallace, 124 Lawrence street, operative; John T. Baxter, 110 Church street, real estate dealer; Frederick J. Gillis, 55 Pleasant street, clerk; Walter J. Cleary, 123 Lawrence street, contractor; Frederick Buckley, 35 Mend street, tanner; and John L. O'Connell, 1 Everett street, chauffeur.

Under the election law in this state, a period of three weeks must elapse between the primary and the final election, so in all probability, the final election to elect the councillor will be held on December 23. If this is done, the new councillor will be inducted into office on inauguration day.

House Thieves Pose as Traveling Salesmen

Incident and in view of the fact that it marks the second occurrence of this nature within a week, (the first having occurred in Summer street) persons letting rooms to strangers are warned to be on their guard.

It was ten minutes to twelve o'clock yesterday when the two men, appearing to be about 25 years of age, inquired of Mrs. Aldrich for a room. She has been letting rooms for almost 25 years, she said this morning, and as the men seemed to be what they represented, she directed them to an upstairs room, for which they paid her $1 for one day's lodging. While she was preparing dinner for her husband, Victor, her daughter, Mildred, and son, Winfield, the rooms were let alone upstairs. About 1 o'clock, Mrs. Aldrich had occasion to visit their room. It was empty.

In her own chamber, Mrs. Aldrich discovered that a gold wrist watch was missing. A valuable cameo pin and an opal ring were left untouched. In her son's room, a gold watch, valued at $80, a watch chain, valued at $15, and a cameo ring had been taken.

The greatest loss was discovered in the room of her daughter, from which a wedding ring, a diamond ring, two wrist watches, one of them gold, valued at $35 and with the initials "M. T. A." and $5 in money, had been taken.

Frederick L. Devno

had taken his seat in the automobile for the homecoming trip. The sun exploded while he was drawing it into the car, the discharge entering his head just below the jaw.

His companions for the day were Louis Russell, Russell Coleman, and Thomas Telford, all of Nashua. They were standing only a few feet from the automobile at the time, with their backs toward it and did not actually see the manner in which the accident happened. At the report of the gun they rushed to the car, only to see Mr. Devno huddled up in the driver's seat, with life already extinct. They raced the car into Nashua and reported the tragedy to the police. The body was viewed by Medical Referee Dr. Bernard G. Moran and his assistant, Dr. T. F. Rock. They pronounced death due to accidental shooting.

For several years Mr. Devno had been prominent in local pharmaceutical circles, having been in partnership with his brother, Charles E. Devno, at the Anderson-Thomson Co., 557 Central street until the latter's death about four months ago. Since that time Mr. Devno had conducted the business himself. He was a World War veteran.

He is survived by his mother and father, Charles E. and Catherine Devno, of 112 Fort Hill avenue, one sister, Jessie L., and a brother, Harold P. Devno. The body was removed to the home in Fort Hill avenue today by Undertakers Mahoney Bros.

A telephone alarm was sent into central fire headquarters at 10:30 p. m. today for a grass fire in back of the street railway car barns in Middlesex street. Engine 7 responded.

LEGALITY OF PUBLISHING INCOME TAX RETURNS CONSIDERED

Question Taken Up By Special Senate Committee Investigating Internal Revenue Bureau—Further Course of Inquiry Depends on Decision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The legality of publishing specific income tax returns was the main question for consideration at today's session of the special senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau with the future course of the inquiry depending on the decision.

Officials of the internal revenue bureau halted the hearing yesterday by raising the point in executive session and had not completed their arguments against making the returns public when the session ended.

Chairman Coughlin said that if the committee decided that the law did not permit the publication of specific returns, the hearing would center about conclusions drawn from a group of returns without identification of the makers. But, he added, if it is concluded that publication was legal, the committee will conduct a complete investigation publicly. The question arose when the committee, in open session, began inquiry into the settlement of the Richard Croker estate.

Although unable to decide on the public point, the committee did agree, however, to include in the investigation a complete inquiry into the operations of the prohibition unit as well as to enforcement of the tax laws.

ELECTION IN WARD FIVE

Special Primary Will Be Held on Same Day as City Election

Five Candidates in Field for Position Made Vacant By Resignation

The special primary election to choose nominees for the office of councilor from Ward 5, to succeed Representative-elect Daniel P. Moriarty, whose resignation was accepted by the council last Tuesday, will be held on the same day as the city election, November 24.

announcement was made this morning by Chairman Hugh C. McQuinn, election commissioner, following a conference between the council and the city solicitor, at which legal questions in regard to the holding of the primary were discussed.

Mr. McQuinn has been of the opinion since Mr. Moriarty decided to resign that the best possible time to hold the election was today.

TWENTY-YEAR SENTENCE

Harry Behan Sent to Sing Sing for Robbing N. Y. Woman of Jewels

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Harry Behan, convicted of having robbed Mrs. E. J. Johnson of $6000 worth of jewels in the Hotel Algonquin last May, was sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment in Sing Sing by General Sessions Judge Collins today.

As he was being led from the courtroom to his Tombs cell, Behan's wife of 19 months, the former Lilian Schultz of San Francisco, tried to rush into his arms. She was held by detectives.

"It's a long time, Harry," she called to him, "but love is longer."

Mrs. Behan is awaiting trial as her husband's accomplice.

"The Behans were guests of Mrs. Johnson the night of the robbery."

HOUSE THIEVES POSE AS TRAVELING SALESMEN

"No respectable-looking young men, representing themselves as traveling salesmen, hired a room at Mrs. Mabel Aldrich at 18 Smith street yesterday noon, and in the course of an hour they ransacked three rooms. Apparent jewelry and other articles with a total valuation of $225, and disappeared."

The police have been notified of the theft.

FELL WHILE PAINTING

Former Lowell Man Dies in Malden Hospital As Result of Fall

Rhona P. Ellis, a former resident of this city, died at the Malden hospital last night from injuries received yesterday afternoon when he fell 25 feet while painting the home of Nelson Shaw. He landed on his head and sustained a fracture of the skull and multiple injuries of the body.

Mr. Ellis, while a resident of Lowell, was well known as "Dick" Ellis. He moved to Malden a few years ago, and last year transferred his place of residence to Malden. He was the son of the late James W. and Melissa Ellis, who lived in Lowell. Mr. Ellis was 42 years, six months and 15 days old, when he died. He is survived by a son-in-law, James R. and Oscar P. Ellis.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Samuel Daniels, 25, and Fred Daniels, 29, English-born naturalized Americans, who fought under the American flag in the world wars, have renounced their citizenship because under the new immigration laws they are not permitted to bring their aged mother from England. Today the brothers planned to apply for passports to return to England, where they will reside with their mother, who is feeble and ill.

INTERESTING TALK ON PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Today, "Physical Education day" on the program for National Education week was elaborately observed at the Lowell State Normal school with a lecture this morning on "Physical Education" by Mr. Florence Summers of the state department of education and a lucky game this afternoon between the junior and senior students at the school.

The work of the state department of physical education in the schools of Massachusetts was explained at length by Miss Summers who told in an interesting way what the development of

20 GIRL STUDENTS FLEE TWO FIRES IN NIGHT

CANTON, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Twenty girl students of St. Lawrence University, all residents of the Phi Nu English sorority house, were forced to flee from their quarters by fire at midnight last night and again at dawn this morning. The fire, of undetermined origin, started in a woodshed attached to the house.

The girls helped fight the fire, which was confined to the shed. About six hours after the flames were thought to have been extinguished it broke out again and caused as much excitement as the first blaze, but it was quickly controlled.

PROBE OF FURNACE DEATH

Prosecutor King Continues to Question Relatives of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley

Son Sends Note to King Saying Furnace Door Open When He Entered Room

CANTON, O., Nov. 21.—Hoping further questioning of relatives of Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, wife of C. V. Sheatsley, pastor of Christ's church, Rexley, suburb of Columbus, O., who found the charred body of his wife in the furnace at the Sheatsley home Monday, might bring some clue which will involve the mysterious cremation, Prosecutor John R. King of Franklin county, (Columbus), today continued examination of Mrs. Sheatsley and her four children.

Funeral services for Mrs. Sheatsley were held at Paris, near here, yesterday.

Prosecutor King also is awaiting a report of Columbus analytical chemists who made an analysis of the lungs and asphyxiants of Mrs. Sheatsley, which Mr. King said would be forwarded to him here today. The prosecutor hopes that the analysis will disclose whether or not Mrs. Sheatsley breathed in the furnace.

He said that if the examination disclosed that she did not breathe it would lend credence to his theory that she was a murder victim. Mr. King declared last night he "is not satisfied she entered the furnace voluntarily."

Questioned by Mr. King, Mrs. Lydia Spenseller, 38 years old, mother of the victim, in statement, declared the Sheatsley family with whom she lived for a number of years, "a more agreeable family I have never seen. Addie was good and kind to me and so was her husband."

Later yesterday in a note sent Prosecutor King, Sheatsley reiterated his belief that his wife had been a suicide victim. Milton, the oldest son, 19, he entered the furnace, room and first saw the body of his mother. In previous statements to the prosecutor he had declared that this door was closed. Mr. Sheatsley in a postscript to Milton's note said that "as you know I thought the little girl told me the small door was open, and that she closed it and is so willing to testify."

Prosecutor King will go further into the phase of the case today, he said.

TO PRODUCE "PERFECT MAN"

Recent Discoveries Concerning the Function of Glands, Explained by Dr. Fisk

Proper Controlling of Glands Means Discovery of "Fountain of Youth"

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—Dr. R. Rodney Fisk of New York told the delegates last night at the closing session of the convention of the Eastern Homoeopathic Medical Association that recent discoveries concerning the function of glands of the human body had paved the way for production of the "perfect man," while Dr. William H. Dillenback, an X-ray specialist, also of New York, added the assertion that by properly controlling the function of glands a "fountain of youth" will have been discovered. Failure of the glands to function, Dr. Dillenback said, was the cause of old age.

"By properly regulating man's glands," declared Dr. Fisk, "we shall not only be able to control his mental characteristics, but also his physical appearance. It will be within our power to say whether he shall be tall or short, fat or thin; whether his voice shall be tenor or bass."

By increasing the action of sluggish glands and slowing down the overactive glands, remarkable results have been accomplished and we are on the verge of even greater achievements which will make possible the production of the perfect man."

Dr. Dillenback expressed the opinion that control of the ductless glands was far superior to implantation of monkey glands for the restoration of youth to the aged.

SUIT AGAINST STREET RAILWAY

William A. Chandler One of Five Plaintiffs in Action of Tort

Suit Grows Out of Crash Between Auto Truck and Electric Car

Lying on a stretcher, unable to move except slightly from a prone position, William A. Chandler of Tewksbury, one of five plaintiffs in a tort action against the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., testified as a witness in superior court here today and told his story of a terrific collision between his automobile truck and an electric car at the intersection of Main and Massachusetts streets in Tewksbury on the evening of Oct. 17, 1923.

Never before in the history of superior court sessions in Lowell has a witness given testimony in this manner and a noticeable stir passed over the court room as Mr. Chandler was brought in by four stretchers and placed on a cot just in front of the jury box. With the court stenographer at his side, with his wife at the head of the cot and with his counsel, James H. Valley of Boston, conducting the direct examination, Mr. Chandler gave testimony for more than an hour without interruption.

This case, in reality five cases in one, went to trial yesterday afternoon only after deputy sheriffs had been sent out into the street to draft citizens for jury duty, the regular panel having been exhausted through challenges. It is considered the biggest case on the trial list and also is the last one of the present term, for adjournment to Cambridge is scheduled for next Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving.

The plaintiffs are William A. Chandler, Peter C. Lacy, John B. Carter, Louis Smith and J. K. Chandler & Sons, all of Tewksbury and the total all damages of the five amounts to $25,000. William A. Chandler's suit being for $10,000.

The plaintiffs are represented by James H. Valley of Boston and William H. Wilson of this city, with Paul Wier and O'Donoghue of Lowell appearing for the street railway company. More than a score of witnesses will be called.

William A. Chandler claims he sustained permanent injuries in the accident and charges the defendant company with negligence in operation of the car.

DEATH OF MRS. HARDING AROUSES DEEP SENSE OF SORROW IN CAPITAL

Washington Mourns Passing of Widow of Former President—High Dignitaries of Government Express Condolences—Funeral Monday

MARION, O., Nov. 21 (by the Associated Press).—Florence Kling Harding, widow of Warren G. Harding, 28th president of the United States, died here today.

The end came at 5:55 a. m. at the White Oaks sanitarium of Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, where she has been fighting for life for the last few weeks.

Mrs. Harding's death was due directly to a kidney ailment, from which she has suffered for years, and which nearly resulted fatally while she was mistress of the White House. She died peacefully, Dr. Sawyer said.

The death certificate made out by Dr. Sawyer gave the cause of death as chronic nephritis, with myocarditis and hydro-nephrosis as contributing causes.

Clifford B. Kling, Mrs. Harding's brother, George B. Christian, Jr., who had been secretary to Mr. Harding; Mrs. Mary Sawyer, widow of Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, and Dr. Carl Sawyer were present when she died.

Arrangements for the funeral were hurriedly taken over by her brother and Mr. Christian.

The funeral services will be held at Epworth Methodist Episcopal church at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Rev. Jesse Swank, pastor of the church and who conducted the funeral services for President Harding, will be in charge. He will be assisted by Rev. George M. Landis, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, of which Mr. Harding was a member. Mrs. Harding had been a member of Epworth Methodist church since girlhood.

While no definite announcement has been made, it is expected that Mrs. Harding's body will be placed temporarily in the receiving vault in the Marion cemetery beside the body of her husband.

The body was removed from White Oaks sanitarium early today to the home of Mrs. Frank J. Langshore, a niece, in East Church street.

President Coolidge's Message
President Coolidge today sent this telegram to George B. Christian, Jr.: "Please express to the members of Mrs. Harding's family the sincere condolences of Mrs. Coolidge and myself. I share in fullest measure the sorrow which her death brings to them. We are disappointed that her brave fight was in vain but it is a source of pride to know that she made it and made it so valiantly as to arouse the admiration of her countless friends. We shall never forget her unceasing efforts." Continued in Page 10

WOMAN HANGS HER TWO CHILDREN AND HERSELF AT CANTON, OHIO

CANTON, O., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Don Burkhardt, Massillon, hanged her two children, aged 10 and 8 years, this afternoon, and then hanged herself according to a report made to Coroner T. H. Sherb, who left here at once to make an investigation.

STRIKE OF BOSTON MILK WAGON DRIVERS ENDS

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—A three-hour strike of milk wagon drivers was settled today through the efforts of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration. Milk deliveries were delayed in Boston and suburban districts, but all customers would be served ultimately.

A strike vote was taken yesterday to enforce the end of the union, representing about 800 drivers, for restoration of a weekly guarantee of $38 which has been replaced by a commission system. A conference of representatives of union and employers was called last night by Fred M. Knight, special investigator for the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, after a five-hour session ending at 3 o'clock this morning it was announced that a settlement had been reached.

REOPEN INVESTIGATION OF WOMAN'S DEATH

WABROAD, Minn., Nov. 21.—Investigation into the death of Mrs. Edna Wheeler, who was found dead in a cabin in the isolated country of the northwest angle of Minnesota, will be reopened, according to county officials here. An undertaker embalmment the body reported he had found evidence that indicated possible foul play caused the woman's death. A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death.

Carl Lister, licensed embalmer of Roseau, said he discovered a cut about two inches long in the woman's head. The woman's death was discovered by her husband and Carl Lister, with whom the couple were staying, in the cabin, on Nov. 13. Lister and a friend set out for this place, where they notified the authorities.

Healthy Women, Happy Homes. Good dispositions succumb. Irritability and snappy retort take the place of happiness and amiability. Sunshine is driven out of homes, in fact, they are often wrecked, and friends are estranged because women suffer with ailments peculiar to their sex. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will overcome such ailments and restore health and happiness. Do not resort to strong stimulants or narcotics when this great strengthening, healing remedy made from roots and herbs is always within reach—Adv.

ORGANIZATION IS NOW COMPLETE

Organizer D. H. McFarland, of the American City Bureau, Inc., leading the local campaign in the interests of many charitable organizations affiliated with the newly organized Lowell Community Chest association, announced this morning the completion of the official executive organization which will carry on the drive for money subscriptions, starting on Monday, December 2, next.

Arthur Spaulding, well known attorney and president of Lowell Rotary club, has been selected by the charity campaigners to be general chairman of the organization.

Robert W. Thomas, past president of the Rotary club, was unanimously chosen commander of the team organization, which will have a membership of 500 men and women, well known supporters of many local community charitable enterprises of many kinds.

A list of majors, so-called, will be appointed next Monday to lead special committees handling important duties in the following campaign divisions:

1. To have charge of the work of securing special gifts.
  2. Conduct drive in the retail stores.
  3. Lead the employees' drive.
  4. Direct drive in houses and schools (neighborhood campaigns).
- There will also be a committee on stunts and outdoor publicity. Another committee will arrange for publicity meetings and speakers, another body of volunteer workers will aid in the distribution of advertising matter, and another active committee will seek co-operation from various schools and churches.

The campaign executive committee announces a special noon-day rally, scheduled for Monday next, in chamber of commerce rooms. Luncheon will be served and all members have promised to be there. At this meeting, the new majors and working committees coming under the "major" head, will be named and list of committees comprising each separate solicitation division of work, will be made up and announced.

Dr. Frank B. Jaynes, educational director of the American City Bureau, will deliver an address of vital interest to the Lowell community chest campaigners, at next Monday noon's luncheon.

When the drive starts on Dec. 2 next, continuing until the campaign closes, daily luncheons will be served in Liberty hall, Memorial Auditorium, to all engaged in the present effort to establish a Lowell community chest.

COLLEGE CLUB MEETS AT HOME OF MRS. KEEP

At the regular business session of the College club held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ruth R. Keep in Fairmount street the committee in charge of the moving picture program given recently at Keith's theatre reported that $78 had been cleared, this sum to be donated to the scholarship fund. Mrs. F. B. Knowles, president of the club, was in the chair and various matters of major importance were discussed, among them being the annual play which is to be given Dec. 10. "The Yellow Jacket," a strictly Chinese character sketch, will be given this year and the committee in charge of arrangements reported favorably.

Following the business program, Miss Frances Scott entertained with numerous readings, among which were "Here Comes the Bridegroom" by Booth Tarkington; "Mansions," a one-act play, by Hildegard Plummer; "First Call on the Butcher," "Sh-sh," and "Specialty Jim."

A social hour was enjoyed and tea was served by the following members of the hospitality committee:

Mrs. Hammond Barnes, chairman; Miss Emma Bradley, Miss Ruth Boulger, Mrs. Gaudin Bullard, Mrs. Allan Burns, Mrs. Philip S. Sturges, Mrs. Ruth Eaton, Miss Ethel Everett, Mrs. Alfred Sawyer, Mrs. Duncan Pierce, Mrs. Charles F. Hobson, Miss Miriam Savage, Mrs. Stanley Kent, Mrs. John Flaherty, Miss Julia Stevens, Miss Elizabeth Irish, Mrs. Herbert Plummer, Miss Alice Sullivan, Miss Anna Kelly, Miss Helen Barnes and Mrs. Ruth R. ## HELD DANCE IN HIGHLAND HALL

An enjoyable dance was held last evening by the Order of the Eastern Star and proved most successful, both financially and socially. Highland hall was prettily decorated for the occasion and the formal dress of those participating added greatly to the general picture of enjoyment and merrymaking. Feature numbers in the dance program, including elimination waltzes and novelty offerings made up an entertaining program. During intermission refreshments were served by the hospitality committee. The following members of the order were in charge of the affair: Percy L. Willis, Charles Stanley, Victor Secord, Harry A. Holmes, Allen Fraser, W. E. Sargent, Edward Scally.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT
In the case of Manning H. Taylor against Mary F. Taylor in superior civil court here, an action of contract involving $400, a jury yesterday afternoon reported a verdict for the defendant.

BYE-ELECTIONS

IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Nov. 21.—The free state government's reverse at the polls in the two bye-elections reported yesterday is balanced by two victories in the southwest. "Rebel" Cork has returned two governmental candidates by big majorities, one in Cork City, where republican Lord Mayor French was defeated, and the other in East

Cork, where Michael Walsh, the republican applicant, lost.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Bullish operations were aggressively conducted at the opening of today's stock market, more than a dozen issues attaining new peak prices for the year in the first few minutes of trading. The list included New Haven, Norfolk & Southern, Southern Pacific preferred, Gulf, Mobile & Northern, Great Northern Ore and the Maxwell Motor issues, the gains ranging from fractions to 2 3/4 points. Savings Bonds advanced 2 points and General Electric 1 1/4.

The upward movement gained increased momentum as trading progressed with several large blocks of stock changing hands. United States Steel common sold above 117 for the first time in nearly six years and more than two dozen other issues established record 1924 prices in the first half hour, including Northern Pacific, Kansas City Southern, General Asphalt, Texas Gulf Sulphur and Public Service of New Jersey. Norfolk & Southern extended its early gain to three points and Chesapeake & Ohio to two. Mack Trucks was the only conspicuous heavy spot, falling back about a point on profit-taking. Foreign exchanges opened firm, Dutch guilders selling at a slight premium for the first time in five years.

NEW HOME IS DEDICATED

Lowell Elks' Dedictory Exercises Close With Banquet and Entertainment

Elks From All Parts of United States Guests of Local Lodge

With appropriate ceremony, fittingly brought to a close with a successful banquet in the evening, the new home of Lowell lodge of Elks, in Warren street, was formally dedicated yesterday. Past Grand Exalted Ruler James R. Nicholson and District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Arthur G. Ledwith of Melrose, with suite, shared honors in the formal dedicatory ceremony in the afternoon. George M. Harrigan, chairman of the building committee, which yesterday turned over its finished work to the lodge, acted as toastmaster at the banquet in the evening.

Lowell citizens numbered as members of Lowell's entered here: Exalted Ruler James R. Nicholson opened the banquet, turning it over to Chairman Harrigan, the toastmaster. Speakers included William H. O'Brien of the state public utilities commission, P.G.E.R. James R. Nicholson, Congressman John Jacob Rogers, Mayor John J. Donovan, D.D.G.E.R. Arthur G. Ledwith, and Past District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler John P. Farley, secretary of the building committee and past exalted ruler of Lowell lodge. The beautiful lodge room of the new home was filled to capacity with members and guests at the banquet. The menu was a palatable feast served in his usual first class fashion by Caterer Lydon and its excellent preparation together with the efficient service went a long way towards making the evening the bright success it proved to be. The menu follows:

genial Jimmie, blushing like a school boy, should accede to clamorous demand and take the encore with the singing. Stanley Greenlaw, musical saw artist, often heard by radio fans, Sam Bailey, a card trick expert, Ed McHugh, monologist, and Miss Ray Sapelle, soprano, made up the rest of the entertainers. All were exceptionally good, Miss Sapelle, first ever to sing in the hall, showing its acoustic properties to be of the best. Following her came the musical saw man, who produces music from a common saw and a fiddler's bow. His work proved conclusively that the acoustic properties of the new hall are of the finest. After the banquet, as post-prandial cigars were being lighted by well satisfied smokers, Exalted Ruler Nicholson took occasion to publicly thank the members of the building committee for their excellent and valuable service to the lodge, citing particularly John J. Healey, treasurer of the lodge and the committee, Michael J. Markham, vice chairman of the committee, and Past District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler John P. Farley, the committee secretary.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road. Where the race of men go by. The men who are good, and the men who are bad. As good and as bad as I, I would not sit in the scorners' seat. Nor hurl the cynic's ban.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road. And be a friend to man." District Deputy Arthur G. Ledwith, the next speaker, referred to the souvenir booklet issued in connection with the opening of the new home, saying he was struck in perusing same with the words, "Looking Backward." Looking backward, he said, he noted that Lowell lodge is the 37th of the order instituted and called for an appreciation of loyalty which rests with its membership, the traditions that are theirs to maintain.

heard of a bigot or a traitor who was an Elk. Just as there is no room for bigots so also, is there no room in Elksdom for traitors, for hyphenated Americans. Mr. Rogers closed his forceful address with a tribute to the building, marked, he said, with a perfection of taste he has never seen in any edifice of its kind.

the future policies of the lodge. Appreciative of his endeavors in the past as well as his earnestness of purpose for the future, those present gave him a decided ovation. The final speaker was William H. O'Brien, member of the state board of public utilities, who spoke on Americanism, especially decrying the new historicist taught in some American public schools, pointing that Elksdom should take it upon itself to suppress these books and restore to use the older histories, more patriotic in tone and more truthful in contents.

BOY DROWNED IN HALE'S BROOK

Seven-year-old Bernard B. Gibson of 88 Washington street, was drowned in Hale's brook yesterday afternoon, in the first thin-ice tragedy of the season in this vicinity.

With a number of his playmates from St. Peter's school, young Gibson played about the bank of the brook after school yesterday afternoon, at times venturing onto the thin ice at the shore. Shortly before dark he ran too far out on the ice and it broke beneath his weight, dropping him into the icy waters of the brook.

Help of police and neighbors was summoned by the boy's playmates, who ran through the streets screaming. Police Chauffeur James Mahoney and Officers Peter Canley and Joseph Lannouere responded and attempted to locate the body by cutting of banks from the shore, while two young men dragged the brook from a small boat. Within 15 minutes the body was brought to shore and rushed to St. John's hospital, where an unsuccessful effort was made to effect resuscitation.

The boy is survived by his parents, Walter A. and Elizabeth (Gardner) Gibson; three brothers, Philip, Warren and Walter, Jr., and two sisters, Mildred and Geraldine. The body was removed to the home by Undertakers Mahoney Bros.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatrical Down Press Agents)

LOWE'S HALL

Check up another satire hit for William Fox. "Darwin Was Right," starring Max, Moritz and Ben, the famous monkeys, which opened at Fox's Hall yesterday, is the latest William Fox production to hit the billboards of popularity. It is the demonstration of the audience at its premier presentation here can be ascertained as a criterion. Lewis Seiler, the director, has made these intelligent apes perform feats of acting that are almost human. It is hard to believe that any animal could be trained in such a remarkable degree. The plot of the picture is interesting, but when not featuring with laughter a spectator is apt to find himself on the edge of his seat so great is the suspense.

While our little hairy brothers are the feature players, there is a supporting cast of humans who play their parts with skill and dash. Among them are such screen favorites as George O'Hara of "Fighting Blood" fame, Dan Mason, formerly of "Conquering" and "Kid" fame, and the team "Ham and Bud" of by-gone days.

Jack Jones, popular Fox Western star, is also on the bill. "Not a Firm Was Heard," an unusually good outdoor story with a very clever plot. A Fox News complete the bill, which is in every way satisfactory.

THE STRAND

A social condition, the subject of widest discussion in the United States, prohibition, is treated daringly in "Wine," the Universal-Jewel feature on The Strand program for the weekend. In its adaptation for the screen care was taken not to make the story in any way a preachment. It has everything found in a high-class photoplay—action, tense moments, clever characterizations and gripping climax. An all-star cast, headed by Clara Bow, Robert Stanton, Myrtle Stedman and others are engaged in it.

Pistol battles, automobile chases and sheriff's posse haven't near the excitement and grief connected with a route-made movie—Lulu, La Plante and Reginald Denry, heavy in "The Fast Worker," an adaptation from George Barr McCutcheon's novel, "The Husbands of Edith." Denry plays the role of the man who suddenly finds a strange life and family on his hands. It has all of the elements found in the usual lively, vigorous, humorous Denry photoplay. A comedy and weekly add to the pleasure of the program—one of the best of the year.

MERRIMACK SQUARE

Betty Compson, whose latest starring vehicle, "The Female," is now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre, knows how Daniel must have felt in the lead. In her new picture, Miss Compson portrays the role of an ignorant, primitive little girl who is called upon to play with several full grown lions. Furthermore, in a tense scene, she is called upon to kill a lion about to attack the man she loves.

The companion feature is "The Lone Chaser," starring John Gilbert in a mystery drama of love and police. The latest chapter of "Into the Net" is also shown.

H. P. KRITZ THEATRE

Nothing is funnier than the development of the character of Michael Chancy, the Irish leader, in "The Best House," at the H. P. Kritz theatre, this week. The film gives this character a real standing. It is 100 per cent comedy. Gracie Denon and Jack Mack in a highly refined act also contribute to the fun. On the bill are, Helene Hamilton and Jack Barron, Perry Corwey, Jack Sidney and Gaudier's Dogs. The picture is "Greater than Marriage."

COMING MEN

The first few years of a child's life, how it is nourished and strengthened and with what, often foreshadows the degree of stamina and endurance in the coming man.

Scott's Emulsion

provides the growing child or the adult rundown in body or strength, with an abundance of vital-nourishment to maintain health and strength.

Scott's Emulsion helps you store up reserves of resistance and strength.

How to Banish Piles

Thousands Bless Dr. Leonhardt, the Physician Who Discovered This Common-Sense Remedy.

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it's because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID. The doctor's treatment is internal. By experimenting for years he discovered the exact cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause. Dr. Leonhardt wants every sufferer to benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubting or delay, Green's Drug Store and all druggists are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it will do as stated or money back. On that honorable basis every sufferer should secure a package of Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID today.—Adv.
